NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1933, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the twenty-first day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred twenty-seven), entitled "An act relating to the extradition of persons charged with crime and to make uniform the law with reference thereto," by giving the Governor of this State authority to deliver up certain imprisoned persons, for the purpose of trial for murder in the demanding state, and providing for their return in case of acquittal.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 9 of the title by striking out at the end of the line after the word "state" the following: "[and providing for their return in],"

Amend page 1 by striking out line 10 of the title and inserting in lieu therof the following: "under certain conditions."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 19 by inserting after the word "that" and before the word "the" the following: "prior to the removal of the person from this State."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 19 by inserting at the end of the line after the word "the" the following: "excutive authority of the demanding state or district shall have agreed that the."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 20 by inserting after the word "returned" and before the word "to" the following: "immediately."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 21 by inserting at the beginning of the line before the word "to" the folowilng: "at the cost of the demanding state or district."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 23 by inserting at the end of the line after the word "state" the following: "or in the event of his or her conviction in such state of manslaughter or any degree or murder the punishment for which is less than death or imprisonment for life."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time?

Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1026, entitled :

An Act to provide for contribution among tortfeasors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUBY. Mr. Speaker, I have certain comments on House Bill No. 1026, explanatory to the members of the House which I will send to the desk and ask that they be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the comments as follows:

Comments on House Bill 1026

An Act
To Provide For Contribution Among Tortfeasors

This bill is designed to remove an uncertainty from our law of torts, by providing that, in every case, the persons who have committed the wrong shall bear the burden equally; in other words, where one of those who joined in doing the wrong has been sued and has paid the judgment, the bill gives him power to compel the other wrongdoers to contribute, by paying to him their proportionate shares of the judgment. Of course, it does not call for contribution as between persons some of whom are primarily, and others secondarily liable.

The right to contribution is recognized in all contract actions, and in many kinds of torts. Under our decisions, it is always permitted where the tort is one of negligence; and likewise where liability for the wrong arises by operation of law, as where a partnership is held liable for the tort of its servant or agent.

The precise limits of the right to contribution, however, are far from clear, and the Supreme Court has used language intimating that it will probably be disposed to permit contribution wherever there is not a direct precedent to the contrary. This, unfortunately, does not give a clear, definite and workable rule for the guidance of courts and lawyers.

It is suggested that the simplest remedy for this condition is also the best, that is, to permit contribution in all cases. It is sometimes argued against this that a wrongdoer who has paid the whole claim should be denied the help of the law to collect from those who joined with him———this on the theory that it is a fitting penalty for his wrongdoing. To apply this view may punish one of the wrongdoers, but it permits all the others to escape scot-free. It seems to be better public policy, as well as a more convenient and certain rule of law, to make all the tortfeasors suffer equally, by permitting contribution, just as all would have to share the penalty, if the act amounted to a crime.

To make this change, would bring the law as to contribution into harmony with the general doctrines of the law, and particularly those relating to quasi-contractual liabilities. In addition, the suggested change is in accordance with recent developments in the policy of other states, as expressed in their statutes and decisions.

The bill does not, in any way, affect the right of a plaintiff to select one of the tortfeasors and to sue him alone; indeed, it does not apply to plaintiffs at all. It only permits a defendant to take action against the others who were equally at fault. Our existing procedural machinery is sufficient to take care of the situation, and no additions need be made to it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SPECIAL ORDER

The hour of 5.35 having arrived.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the Special Order of business fixed for this time, being the motion to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 22, was defeated on April 3rd, 1933.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 22, Printer's No. 409, entitled:

An Act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers deputies and employes providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" was defeated on final passage on April 3, 1933, be reconsidered.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Witkin, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, voted no.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. SOWERS. I voted no, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Bechtel and Mr. Terry.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I do not think after last night's debate on this bill that there is any necessity for extended remarks or for further explanation. However, the impression has gotten around on the part of one or two members as to the promise that I made to this House last night, that I would amend the bill to provide that the Eexcutive Board should be restored to the place where it is now in the Administrative Code. In other words, the Board is appointed by the Governor. I say to the House again that I am sorry there should be any question, because it arises in my mind that there might be some question on the part of my words as to my efforts, and I say to you sincerely and honestly that there is no question but what that amendment will be made. There are other amendments to be made in the Senate. The promise has been made to some people interested in this bill that promise has been made to some people interested in this bill that some slight amendments will be made, and I am sure they will meet with your favorable consideration. I did not want to have to reprint the bill at this time because it would have cost over eight hundred dollars to reprint it.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just wish that every member of this House could have sat with me last Friday and last Saturday and part of Sunday and have read the interesting book recently published by the Honorable James M. Beck, one of the great constitutional lawyers of this country entitled, "Our Wonder laid of Bureaucracy." If you could have read that book I am certain there could have been no question in the minds of the members of this House as to the advantage of this bill. He points out very distinctly the creating of the Federal departments and he points out very distinctly that that has added very greatly to the burden of the taxpayers.

I would like to take the time of the House for a moment to call their attention to the increases in this State of ours in some of the departments in the cost of government.

The cost of the State Department of Agriculture, Public Instruction, Welfare, Labor and Industry, increased from the year 1913 to 1915, with an appropriation of thirty-eight million seventeen thousand dollars to one hundred and twenty-three million five hundred and forty-nine thousand proposed in the budget for 1933-1935, and our entire attempt in this bill is to curtail that spirit of bureaucracy which is adding a tax burden to the people of the Commonwealth, to take the money from things and give it to things such as you men desire, such as hospital appropriations and your schools. I ask you, therefore, to consider each of these facts, and in consideration of the many merits in this bill and the things that it will do to help cut down the cost of government in this State, that you men now vote "aye" on it.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, to advise this House whether or not it is his purpose to amend this bill in the Senate in those sections which provide for the employment of counsel by the Auditor General and the State Treasurer?

Mr TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention, no sir.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, neither do I want to take too much of the time of this House to reconsider the question which has already been taken up yesterday and again today.

I do not stand before you as an advocate of bureaucracy. My good friend from Delaware, Mr. Turner, has taken occasion to quote from a book by the Honorable James M. Beck, in which he attacks bureaucracy and the great cost that bureauracy means to the citizens of the State and Nation. I call the attention of my friend, as well as the attention of the members of the House, to a very interesting article that appears in Scribner's Magazine for the month of April, written probably by the best known writers on current history as it relates to government. The article is written by Mr. Charles and Mr. William Beard and is entitled "The Care For Public Employes," and I should like for just a few moments to read to this House the point of view taken by these two good gentlemen.

> Year in and year out another branch of the bureaucracy, composed of engineers, biologists, and bacteriologists, is supplying our very best citizens with water which they can safely drink and doing this without thought of cutting any melons for themselves. Out of 250 cities having over 30,000 inhabitants in 1927, 210 had municipal water plants. Paralleling this growth in public operation has been a precipitous drop in typhoid and Asiatic cholera, the two major water-borne epidemics. Los Angeles is one of the numerous cities which claim that not a single life has been lost from these causes over a period of many years.
> In other fields of human health the bureaucracy has taken lead. One of its most signal victories has been the conquest of yellow fever. For centuries the ogirins of the dread malady were unknown. It struck Philadelphia in 1793 with merciless might, mowing down rich and poor, young and old, white and Negro, without discrimination. Of course business came to a halt. Many persons died in the streets and were long left unburied. A continuous stream of families poured from the city to outlying regions. Vain attempts were made to "purify" the atmosphere by shooting off cannon and building bonfires. Men put sponges over their mouths or carried smelling bottles of vinegar or camphor. Smoking was all the rage, for tobacco was deemed a specific. Eating garlic and concealing pieces of tarred rope on the person were also listed as remedies.

I could go on indeterminately reading this article which states very correctly, that while there is a case against bureaucracy, there is a case for bureaucracy, but this is beside question.

My friend from Delaware, Mr. Turner, has answered my question whether or not it is his intention to remove from the bill this provision which permits the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to appoint counsel, notwithstanding the fact that the chief legal advisor of the Commonwealth is the Attorney General. It is this provision of the bill which is in my opinion objectionable to the precepts of good public administration as I know them to be. It is this provision of the bill which in my opinion is a step backward beyond 1857, yes, surely a step backward beyond 1915, because in 1915, if not in 1857, seventy-five years ago, this Legislature said the Attorney General is the chief legal advisor of this Commonwealth, that to him shall all legal questions involving the Commonwealth be referred, and by his opinion shall all the department heads be bound.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the elimination of the Executive Board provision in this bill was indeed a step in the right direction, and it was a step in the right direction because had it remained in the bill you would have had a condition not unlike triumvirate of Rome; not unlike, if you please, the rule of the Executive Council in the early days of our country, when there was more than one head to the government. Those of you who recall your history, will recall that it was that condition, that division of authority, that division of responsibility, that made Washington and his men suffer at Valley Forge in spite of the fact that we then had a country of plenty.

If my friend from Delaware, Mr. Turner, following the precept of good government, agrees to remove from the bill this provision which will eliminate the division of executive authority, then I say it follows as logically as the night the day that there should be no division of authority in legal advice, that the heads of departments, including the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, must comply with the law.

There is history in the legal reports of this Commonwealth. much history, which would tell you, if you have a mind and the time to read them, what has happened because of this division of authority. I won't tire you with the legal decisions, although they are at hand, but the fact remains that up to 1915 there was chaos and confusion in the administration of the public business of this Commonwealth because of division of responsibility so far as concerns the legal services of the Attorney General.

Now, I daresays, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that there doesn't sit a man or woman in this House who has not pride in the Commonwealth. There is not a man or woman in this House who would not take pleasure in hearing from me that Pennsylvania stands with Massachusetts, stands with New York, stands with Wisconsin, as model Commonwealths in the public administration of State government.

The fact that the legal business of this Commonwealth, under its statutes and Constitution, are exclusively reposed in the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, is one, and an important one, of the reasons why we as Pennsylvanians may be proud of the place that we hold among the States of the Union for efficiency in the public administration of the State's business.

It is an appeal to this House that the reputation of the Commonwealth be sustained, and it is for this sake and this sake alone that I expend as much of my voice and as much of my energy as I feel is necessary to convince the House that by passing this measure with this provisions in it, you are stepping backward the Commonwealth at least to 1915, if not back to 1857. Don't take that backward step, protect your Commonwealth against it and defeat this measure.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Joseph R. Lynch, Schrock, Griffith, Flynn, King, McKay, Gillette, Spann, Metzier, Maloney, Scorza, Bennett, Baldi, Cooke, John J. Williams, Lewis, Cordier, Hough, Hart, Harris and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. SHUGARTS filed the following reason for his vote in the negative.

While I am heartily in favor of economy I feel it a needless waste of time to pass a measure having the opposition that this measure has and which His Excellency the Governor has sworn to veto. I, therefore, vote no.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. It is unfortunate that on today's calendar there are twenty-five pages of third reading bills. The Chair is of opinion that it is necessary to have a session tonight so that we may not fall behind in the calendar. If it meets with the wishes of the members we are about to take a recess until 9:00 P. M.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution form the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1933.

A few days ago the world learned that man in his eternal struggle for conquest of the last frontier, the upper elements, had successfully soared over the highest mountain;

Late news flashes of this morning stun us with the intelligence that the Akron, America's pride, the world's greatest dirigible, has gone down to destruction;

Among those apparently lost are Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the United States Navy, as well as other Navy and Army officers, and the officers and crew of that magnificant ship;

The names of these illustrious men are added thereby to the terrible total of heroes who have given their lives that man may fre himself from the natural shackles to which man was born and which, God-like, he will ever struggle to break, at whatever cost;

Since this must be and man must suffer if man will conquer, and if we of the present be worthy of our forefathers who, at the price of death and over many years have forced humanity upwards to be the controller of its destiny and not the slave of its environment, it is for us only to view with pride sorow and sacrifice of the pathfinders, therefore be it

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by this resolution seeks to express in a poor way its pride in America's gallant dead, its sorrow in Ameria's overwhelming loss, and its solemn faith that they have not died in vain, and that America, in the future, as in the past, will falter not, nor count the cost, in the age-long battle to make man truly the conqueror.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1810, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twelfth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred and twenty-seven), entitled "An act establishing precautionary regulations to prevent forest fires on lands in which oil wells and gas wells are situated, and diminish danger therefrom; making certain violations thereof misdemeanors and prescribing punishment for the same, and in other cases affixing penalties and declaring liabilities for damages."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would greatly appeciate it if the sponsor of this bill would explain to this House what the bill is and the necessity for it.

Mr. GRIFFITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was introduced by request of the Department of Forests and Waters. It simply repeals a law that has lost its usefulness.

As the Department has explained, while it costs nothing, of course, for it to remain on the statutes, as a matter of clarifying the records it asks that it be removed. Those sections that were protected under this law are now taken care of by other laws and reguations, and it is simply a mater of clearing the records.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not mean to say that the gentlemen in the House who represent oil districts in this state will eventually oppose this bill, but millions of dollars are invested in that industry, and unless we are taken care of in other laws, we do not want this bill to pass until we know how we are protected. I am, therefore, asking the sponsor if he would be willing to place this bill on the postponed calendar until we make an investigation. It may be that we shall have no investigation but on the face of it it looks to me as if our fire protection is taken away from us.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from McKean interrogating the gentleman from Somerset, the sponsor of this bill?

Mr. WILSON. Yes, Mr. Speaker. Is the sponsor of this bill satisfied to put this bill onthe postponed calendar until we can make an investigation and find out whether the oil industry of Pennsylvania is adversely affected by this bill?

Mr. GRIFFITH. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman in this way: I certainly would not object to it, because this bill is of no more particular interest to me than it is to any other member in this House. I want to say that when this bill was brought into committee, there was a member that raised obection. He went along with me to the department and looked into the matter, and he was satisfied, and the bill was then introduced in the House. So, it is perfectly satisfactory to me.

Mr. WILSON. Would the gentleman make a motion to put it on the postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from McKean, interrogating gentleman from Somerset?

Mr. GRIFFITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1806, entitled:

An act to eliminate reckless and irresponsible drivers from the public highways and to protect the safety of users of the public highways by providing in certain cases for the suspension and revocation of operator's licenses and privileges (whether resident or non-resident) and for the establishment of ability to respond in damages for injury to property and persons including injuries resulting in death caused by the use or operation of motor vehicles (including unlicensed operators and unregistered motor vehicles) conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Insurance Commissioner insurance carriers and clerks of the courts requiring certain provisions in motor vehicle liability insurance policies and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker. I desire to interogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker. will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, explain at length the provisions of this bill?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, that if the gentleman from Philadelphia wants this bill explained at length, he might take the time and trouble to read the bill, but if the gentleman from Philtdelphia does want me to give the condensed purport of the bill, I will be glad to do so.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I have read the bill, but I yield to the legal sagacity of my friend, and I would like very much to have him give the House the benefit of his profundity.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I do, Mr. Speaker, and I accept the compliment also.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to raise the point whether the gentleman——

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman interrogating?

Mr. HOUGH. No, I just wanted to raise the point whether the gentlemen are lawyers or only think they are.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, seriously this is an important measure, and I think that the House is entitled to receive at least some explanation of the purposes of the bill from Mr. Blumberg. I think that the bill is sufficiently important to justify the time of the House and I renew my request.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, desire to interrogate gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, to bring out the point in question?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I would appreciate it if my friend from Philadelphia would proceed to explain the purposes of the bill.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, and those of you who are interested may I say that this bill represents an attempt along certain lines to eliminate irresponsible, reckless drivers.

For a long time not only in this state but in a great many other states it was believed that compulsory insurance would eliminate reckless driving. It has been tried in many states, but unfortunately has not produced the desired result. The bill, however, has been tried, and it is the behalf of those who are interested in eliminating reckless drivers that this is the finest step that can be taken toward that end. The bill does this: it provides that any person whose operator's license or privilege has been revoked for a period of not in excess of three months due to any violation of the automobile code before that unlicensed driver may have his revocation or suspended license renewed he must furnish proof of financial responsibility. As you know, under the automobile code a man's license may be revoked for any one of a number of reasons. A few of them, driving while intoxicated, hit and run driving, failing to stop and render assistance, driving an unregistered automobile and so on, or when he has pleaded guilty to a violation of any of the provisions set forth in the automobile code. Where that license has been revoked for a period in excess of three months then the license can be reinstated by the Department of Highways upon proof of financial responsibility offered. The bill provides that proof must consist of an insurance liability policy to the extent of five thousand dollars for death or injury to two or more persons arising out of the same accident.

That, ladies and gentlemen, is the purport of the bill.

I believe it is important bill. I do not believe that it is possible to pass at this session of the legislature, and I say that as a result of my experience in other sessions, a bill which would tend to make compulsory insurance to be carried by all licensed drivers. This bill is striking at the man who has proven by his own act to be reckless and irresponsible. I, therefore, ask you to support the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1537, entitled:

An Act to amend clause five of section three of the act, approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and nine (P. L. 520), entitled "An act relating to food; defining food; providing for the protection of the public health; and the prevention of fraud and deception, by prohibiting the manufacture or sale, the offering for sale or exposing for sale, or the having in possession with intent to sell, of adulterated, misbranded, or deleterious foods; prescribing certain duties of the Dairy and Food Commissioner in reference thereto; and providing penalties for the violation thereof," as amended, by extending, changing and limiting the provisions thereof; relating to fruits used in fruit cake and the use of sulphur dioxide.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1934, entitled:

An Act providing for receipt by the Commonwealth of personal property bequeathed to the Commonwealth; providing for the vesting of title in the Commonwealth of real estate devised to the Commonwealth, the custody, repairs, leasing and sale thereof by the Department of Justice; and providing the payment of costs of repair of such property.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to give us some light on it before I vote on it.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was gievn to me by one of the deputies of the Attorney General's Department. The purpose of the bill is to provide by law that proper receipts may be issued by the Commonwealth in the acceptance of devises of bequests of property made to the Commonwealth and also for the disposition of such property.

The Deputy Attorney General called my attention to a case where a certain person had by will left all her property to the Commonwealth and that property consisted of certain personalty and certain realty. This bill provides that the property shall be handled by the Department of Revenue and that it can be sold or leased and good title can be given for the same in case of its sale.

It is simply enacting into law a device by which the Commonwealth can properly handle these dvises and bequests.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majorty required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1594, entitled:

An Act creating a Legislative Finance Bureau, and providing for the appointment of a chief thereof by the General Assembly; defining the powers and duties of said Bureau, and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Rice.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Rice, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Dauphin, if this bill should fail of passage would it interfere with the operation of the government of this state?

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I would answer that question by saying that the passage of this bill would facilitate the operation of the government quite materially.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill 1594, Printer's No. 385, it sets up a legislative finance bureau and carries an appropriation of forty thousand dollars. Will this forty thousand dollar expenditure show a saving to this state?

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Westmoreland interrogating the gentleman from Dauphin or making a statement?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the sponsor of this bill whether that forty thousand dollar expenditure in this bill would be a saving to the government.

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I think all of the members of this House who have had experience in the Appropriations Committee, the State Government and the Ways and Means Committee will agree that the passage of this bill would save many thousands of dollars to this Commonwealth.

In the 1929 session there was a difference between the Auditor General and the Executive of some twenty million dollars. For many weeks much oratory was displayed on the floor of this House, and there never was an agreement reached, and no one knew whether the Audior General or the Executive was correct.

It is always necessary for the Appropriations Committee to wait practically until the closing day of the session to make up the general appropriation bill. If this bureau functioned, the Appropriations Committee could make up their appropriations the first week of the session—at least during the first part of the month, and they could be promptly passed. I believe that the older members of this House feel that the average session of the legislature could furnish them with reliable figures, and they would not have them to depend on an investigation covering a great many weeks of contention over figures.

We have never had a session in this House since I have been a member where there has not ben a diffrence between the Executive and the Legislative branch as to the money available.. Certainly this body ought to have a bureau of its own that would furnish it with proper figures, so that it can properly and promptly legislate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to support this measure. It is a good measure, but the third paragraph on page 2 is so clearly incompatible with previous legislation, House Bill No. 22 that I cannot possibly support it.

The Chief of the Legislative Finance Bureau is given authority to appoint an assistant and fix his salary. That is an incompatible feature. The Chief of the Legislative Finance Bureau shall also appoint and fx the salaries of stenographers and clerks as the Legislative Finance Bureau may deem necessary, and that also is an incompatible feature. We have already legislated that such matters as salaries should be given control.

I would like to vote for this measure, but I cannot do so because of this paragraph.

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that my colleague from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, can support this measure if he takes into consideration the fact that the head of this bureau is to receive five thousand dollars. In House Bill No. 22 the salaries of the heads of the department are statutory at that figure. Certainly the head of a department would not fix the salary of an assistant above his own. So, under those circumstances, I think the gentleman from Cambria, can support this legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

Griffith, Schrock,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1672, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred thirty-seven), entitled "An act for the protection of public health by regulating the conduct and operation of public eating and drinking places within this Commonwealth, imposing certain duties on the Department of Health of this Commonwealth and on the local health authorities; and providing penalties."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1673, entitled:

An Act to amend sections 2 and 3 of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand two hundred and twenty-nine), entitled "An act to safeguard human health and life by providing for the licensing and regulation of persons and entities dealing in milk for human consumption; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Secretary of Health, and the Advisory Health Board, and otherwise providing for the administration of the act; and imposing penalties," by authorizing the Secretary of Health to charge and collect fees for the issuance of certificates of approval and permits and further providing for the inspection of premises where milk is to be sold.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire with reference to the purpose of this proposed bill.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Bucks have any particular gentleman in mind whom he desires to interrogate?

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, someone who may be in a position to explain the necessity and the purpose of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, explain the purposes of this bill to the gentleman from Bucks?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is one of a series of bills which has its source in the Joint Legislative Committee on State Finance. That committee proceeded to improve the state of the treasury by reducing expenditures which it felt were unnecessary and sought to study and make determinations, as a result of the study of the services rendered by the Commonwealth and the compensation received by the Commonwealth for such services rendered. Among the services rendered by the Commonwealth we found in many instances inspection services, the result of which brought the right to certain of our citizens to have a specialized type of business. This particular bill deals with the sale of milk and supplies chiefly.

In this particular case the committee ascertained that by reason of the inspection of dairies, the Commonwealth permitted that type of business to go on under regulation, and it was the sense of the committee that a small charge would be equitable. This bill seeks to impose that small charge of five dollars for a license fee for every ten dairy farms in a group. It also seeks to impose a five dollar examination fee for inspectors who are authorized by law to make the inspections of those dairy farms for sanitary purposes.

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the fact that this Joint Legislative Committee has attempted to make a comprehensive study of the several departmental activities of the Commonwealth with the purpose in mind of reducing the cost of government, the cost of government as saddled upon the Commonwealth, but today we face a situation with reference to the milk industry which is in conformity with the resolution adopted by this House and also by the Senate some weeks ago, placing a burden upon the producers of milk, the dairy farmers, which is rapidly driving that industry out of existence. Also, by the terms of this bill, as I understand it, it will have a tendency to increase the spread between the price now paid to the producer and the price paid by the consumer for fluid milk in the bottle, which is unfair and unnecessary.

We feel that so far as the milk industry is concerned it is now over-regulated and over-inspected.

I believe that there is a general tendency and a sympathetic feeling toward reducing unnecessary costs and the consequential expenses.

Inasmuch as I desire to support the work of this committee, I personally feel that the passage of this measure at the present time is unnecessary and entirely out of place.

I ask the members of the House to give it their careful consideration and if they feel as I do to vote likewise.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia have any objection to placing this bill on postponed calendar, so that a little study of it can be made?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. I have no objection to placing the bill on the postponed calendar, Mr. Speaker, but on the contrary I believe if this program is to proceed these bills should be considered and disposed of as they appear upon the calendar. There are a great many of them and if on each of the bills, as they are presented, an important or unimportant controversial question arises, the progress of the bills through the House will be retarded, and if I know anything about it the adjournment will be retarded. It seems to me that we ought to face the issue as the bills arise, and pass them or defeat them according to their merits.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I am not just one hundred per cent prepared to discuss this bill, but I will do the best I can extemporaneously.

Today all of the larger cities are paying a rather high price for milk, and when we come up here and talk to the farmers we find that the farmers are getting a very low price for milk. We find that when the city of Philadelphia is flooded with milk, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania then inspects the farms and finds many farms not producing proper milk, and then the supply to the city is reduced and the price is advanced.

If this bill passed, it is simply another weapon to the inspector to go around, and inspect, and charge the farmers more money, and try to put them out of business when milk is very plentiful and when milk is not plentiful to find their farms all right.

I think the question is a very broad question and a very important question, and I think, Mr. Speaker, that this bill should be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman make the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. I am not making the motion, Mr. Speaker I ask the members of the House to vote down this bill.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want to prolong this discussion unduly, but you can very readily see that the five-dollar charge per dairy farm and one dollar for each additional farm in a group of ten or a fraction thereof paid annually will hardly influence the price of milk at the dairies.

The theory behind the bill is simply this: The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is obliged to expend money to pay for the inspection of these institutions. We made the amount of the charge as low as possible. It does not cover the cost, but in the aggregate if the Commonwealth can equitably and justly pick up some of the cost that is involved upon it in making these inspections, it will in the composite picture make a substantial difference in the cost to the government.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this seems to be the first measure that comes up as a new tax measure, which is inflicted upon the farmer. We have many farmers now who are not getting enough for their milk in two weeks to pay this tax.

The farmers are over-inspected and over-taxed. I feel that I should read from an editorial in tonight's Harrisburg Telegraph, a quotation from General Martin, where he says: "We will continue to oppose new taxes."

I hope we will be consistent with that thought and vote this bill down, because it is an additional tax upon the farmers who are over taxed now.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1677, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph (c) of section 5 of the act approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one entitled "An act regulating public bathing places, swimming pools, public bath houses, public and private natatoriums, turkish bath houses, all places hired for any form of bathing or swimming, and all related appurtenances; fixing license fees; providing, in matters of sanitation, cleanliness and safety, for supervision by the Department of Health; and prescribing penalties for violations," by increasing the inspection fee chargeable by the Department of Health.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1678, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the nineteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six (Pamphlet Laws, sixteen) entitled "A supplement to the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws, thirty-four), entitled 'An act concerning alcoholic liquors; prohibiting the manufacture, advertising, furnishing, traffic in, and possession of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, and articles and substances designed or intended for use in the manufacture thereof; defining intoxicating liquor; providing for penalties, forfeitures, and the abatement of nuisances; and repealing existing alcoholic liquor laws and alcoholic liquor license laws'; providing for the registering of federal permits; also regulating, under permit, through a Pennsylvania Alcohol Permit Board created in the Department of Welfare, the manufacture, production, distillation, development, use in manufacture, denaturization, redistillation, recovery, reuse, holding in bonds, holding in storage by bailee for hire, sale at wholesale, and transportation for hire, of any alcohol or alcoholic liquid, by certain persons; also providing for fees and the disposition thereof; also authorizing the inspection of the records of permittees and purchasers of said alcohol or alcoholic liquid; also declaring certain places nuisances and providing for their abatement; also providing penalties; and also repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act' by abolishing the Pennsylvania Alcohol Permit Board and transferring the powers and duties of the board to the Department of Health.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, to explain the contents of it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman to explain the bill.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill transfers the functions of the Alcohol Permit Board from the Department of Welfare to the Department of Health.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia the purpose in transferring this function from the Department of Welfare to the Department of Health; what is accomplished by that transfer?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the committee felt that since the Department of Health has a division in which they control narcotics under the Harrison Act, that the Department of Health was the proper department of the State to handle alcoholic control so long as it remains a matter of State function. That was only done because the committee felt that there was greater relativity on the subject of control in the Department of Health than there would be in the Department of Welfare.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I merely wish to state that the explanation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, seems to me to be a fair explanation of the bill, and I shall vote "aye" on the bill.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1782, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 285 of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred forty-eight), entitled "An act relating to fish; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" by making the moneys in the Fish Fund available for the reimbursement of the General Fund for certain services rendered or supplied by certain departments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill provides for the taking of money out of the Fish Fund, which money is derived from a certain class of people, namely the sportsmen of this State, from those that understand that as they pay their license fees that money would go back into that fund again. I take it that it is particularly unfair to them, after they have paid their license fees and have paid their fines with the expectation that the money shall go into the fund, to take it away from them. I certainly hope that you will defeat this measure.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill raises a question which I think should be determined by the House after a full understanding. We have a Fish Fund and a Game Fund, and all of the moneys are contributed by the sportsmen of the Commonwealth, all of which go into a special fund, not the General Fund of the Commonwealth. The General Fund of the Commonwealth receives no benefit from these moneys. We also have a Highway Fund which stands under precisely the same position. We have also an agency known as the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, no part of which gets into the General Fund. We have other similar agencies in the General Fund which are more or less revolving in the sense that they are moneys which are accumulated as the result of the payment of fees for examinations and other services of the Commonwealth.

Now, under the law as it presently exists, all of these funds are audited by the Auditor General; each of these funds is provided with a place to prosecute its business, each of the funds receives the benefit of heat and light service. It is the contention of the committee that the special funds, the Fish Fund, the Game Fund, the Highway Fund, the Motor Fund and the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, pay the cost of the annual audit, the cost involved in the State Tresurer's office in the handling of checks and the distribution of money, the value of the rent and the cost of the heat, light and power. This, it seems to me is a sound business proposition, because there is no business man who will say to himself, "I will separate this department of my business from all of the other departments of my business, but I will excuse this department from paying any part of the overhead which is properly chargeable against it, and by so doing I will produce in that particular department a greater profit or a better result or a finer showing than if I had charged against that department all of these factors of expense which properly belonged to it.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you are dealing with this particular proposition in terms of big money, because the committee has ascertained that in the aggregate the General Fund is burdened to the extent of six hundred and ninety thousand dollars biennially through the service which is rendered by the Auditor General's office, of the State Treasurer's office, and by the Department of Property and Supplies through the furnishing of light, heat, power and rent.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the committee that has labored for more than six months brings to you what it believes to be a fair and comprehensive program, has no personal interest in any of these bills. It has, on the other hand, an interest to present to you what it believes to be a sound and comprehensive financial program. If you accept the judgment of the committee in this respect, and I submit to you that you should so accept it, you will improve or benefit the General Fund of the Commonwealth to the extent of six hundred and ninety thousand dollars biennially. The principle involved is a very plain one; whether or not special funds of the Commonwealth shall remain inviolate against the expenditures which the General Fund is bound to take and bear, whereas on the other hand, the General Fund derives no benefit whatever from the monies in these special funds. The committee submits to you with its approval that the principle is sound. Whether or not the House will take this opportunity to do what the committee believes to be the businesslike thing to do is a matter for you to decide, but we believe that all of these funds should be put upon their own legs and that they should not lean upon the General Fund and impair it. For these reasons I ask that the bill be passed.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, whether he can give the House an estimate of the total annual amount of the Fish Fund?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, I am sorry I don't have here this evening the figures with which I can properly answer that question. I have them here only in a very fragmentary fashion, and I would not like to present them in the shape in which I have them now.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask this additional question, Whether in the investigation of this matter the Committee determined any figuer or estimate of the cost of handling the affairs of the Fish Fund, and what it would cost that paricular fund?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. About twenty-five hundred dollars biennially.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Session 1933 — 130th of the General Assembly

Vol. 15 — HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1933 — No. 43

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 5, 1933.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Honorable James S. Boyd) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Thou Almighty Ruler of this universe, we thank Thee this morning that the law of the Lord is perfect, and this world has been going forward to its destiny and the universe has been going forward according to Thy law since the commencement of time. Help us to realize that God's law has never had any amendments made to it and that it is ever the same. Men have attempted, nations have attempted to run counter to the plans and purposes of the Almighty Governor of everything, and they have suffered by being removed from God. Keep us, therefore, in Thy fear and in Thy love, and that we may realize that nothing is haphazard in Thy law, that our lives are under God's plan and purposes, that God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, and may He keep us and make us happy and contented because we are in line with Thy purpose. Bless us today and keep us in Thy love. In Christ's Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. EINSTEIN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE AMENDMENT TO SENATE BILL No. 106

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 106, entitled:

An Act to amend section ten as amended of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet laws, four hundred sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvements; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalties for injury or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," by providing for the construction and reconstruction maintenance of certain bridges forming parts of state Highways in boroughs and incorporated towns by the Department of Highways.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 322, as follows:

An Act to eliminate reckless and irresponsible drivers from the public highways and to protect the safety of users of the public highways by providing in certain cases for the suspension and revocation of operator's licenses and privileges (whether resident or non-resident) and for the establishment of ability to respond in damages for injury to property and persons including injuries resulting in death caused by the use or operation of motor vehicles (including unlicensed operators and unregistered motor vehicles) conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Insurance Commissioner insurance carriers and clerks of the courts requiring certain provisions in motor vehicle liability insurance policies and providing penalties.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall in no respect be considered as a repeal of any of the provisions of the Vehicle Code but shall be construed as supplemental thereto

Section 2 Whenever the Department of Revenue shall revoke or suspend an operator's license or privilege or shall suspend the operating privilege of a non-resident as may now or hereafter be provided by law such license or privilege shall not be renewed or restored unless and until the holder of said license or privilege has furnished proof of financial responsibility as hereinafter required Provided That this section shall not apply to any suspension for a term or period of less than three calendar months

Section 3 Such operator's license or privilege shall remain suspended or revoked and shall not at any time thereafter be restored nor shall any such license or privilege be hereafter issued to such person or persons until he shall have given proof as hereinafter required of his ability to respond in damages for any liability thereafter incurred resulting from the operation thereafter of a motor vehicle for personal injury to or death of any one person in the amount of at least five thousand dollars in any one accident for at least ten thousand dollars for personal injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident and for damages to property in the amount of at least one thousand dollars resulting from any one accident Provided however That this provision shall also apply to any person who shall by final order or judgment have been convicted of or pleaded guilty to or forfeited any bail for his appearance for trial for operating a motor vehicle upon any public highway without being licensed to do so or for operating an unregistered motor vehicle upon any public highway

Section 4 It shall be the duty of the clerk of every court of record in which any such final judgment or order is rendered or entered to forward immediately to the department a certified copy of such final judgment or order which shall be prima facie evidence of the conviction plea or other action stated therein In the event that such person is a non-resident of this State the department shall transmit a copy of such certified copy certified to by it to the official in charge of the issuance of operator's licenses or privileges of the resident State of such non-resident

Section 5 Proof of ability to respond in damages required under this act may be evidenced by filing with the department a written certificate or certificates of any insurance carrier or carriers duly authorized to do such business within this State that it has issued to such person a motor vehicle liability policy or policies in the form hereinafter prescribed which at the date of the certificate or certificates is or are in full force and effect and such certificate or certificates shall certify that said motor vehicle policy or policies therein cited shall not be cancelled or shall not expire except as hereinafter provided and the department shall be notified in writing by said insurance carrier of the cancellation or expiration of any motor vehicle liability policy certified under the provision of this act at least fifteen days before the effective date of such cancellation or expiration and such policy shall continue in full force and effect until the cancellation or expiration date specified in such notice and unless such person shall file as aforesaid another certificate or certificates in lieu of those expired or cancelled such person's license or privilege shall again be suspended by the department

Section 6 The department shall upon request furnish any person a certified abstract of the operating record of any person subject to the provisions of this act which abstract shall disclose whether or not the operator's license or privilege of such person has been suspended or revoked whether or not proof of financial responsibility herein required has been furnished and the name and address of the insurance carrier or carriers whose policy or policies is or are in force at the time of said request The department shall collect a fee of two dollars for such certified abstract

Section 7 Any operator whose license or privilege shall have been suspended or revoked or whose policy of insurance when same is required under this act shall have been cancelled or terminated and has not filed a certificate or certificates in lieu thereof shall immediately return to the department his said license or privilege if any person shall wilfull fail to return said privilege or license as provided herein the department shall forthwith direct any peace officer to secure possession thereof and return the same to the department Any person wilfully failing to return such license or privilege shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars and in addition may be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding ninety days and such penalty shall be in addition to any penalty imposed by the vehicle Code of this State

Section 8 The department shall require proof of financial responsibility as herein required for and during a term of three years from the date when such proof has been filed with and accepted by the department

Section 9 The department may relieve any person from complying with this act at any time within said three years period if such person has become permanently incapacitated from operating a motor vehicle

Section 10 Nothing in this act contained shall be held to apply to or affect policies of automobile insurance against liability which may now or hereafter be required by any other law of this State and such policies if endorsed to conform with the requirements of this act shall be accepted as proof of finanacial responsibility when required under this act

Section 11 Any person who shall forge or without authority sign or utter any evidence of ability to respond in damages as required by this act and any person who shall violate any provision of this act for which no penalty is otherwise provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars and in addition may be sentenced to the county jail for a term of not exceeding ninety days

Section 12 Motor vehicle liability policy as used in this act shall be taken to mean a policy of liability insurance issued by an insurance company authorized to transact business in this State and shall insure the person therein named as insured against loss from the liability imposed by law upon such insured for injury to or the death of any person other than such insured and for damage to the property other than the property of said insured and occurring while such insured is personally in control as driver of such motor vehicle within the continental limits of the United States of America to the amount of limit of five thousand dollars exclusive of interest and costs on account of injury to or death of any one person in any one accident of ten thousand dollars exclusive of interest and costs on account of the injury or death of two or more persons in any one accident and for damages to property in the amount of at least one thousand dollars resulting from any one accident or a binder pending the issuance of any such policy or an endorsement to an existing policy as hereinafter provided Provided however That this section shall not be construed as preventing any insurance carrier from granting in a motor vehicle libility policy any coverage in excess of or in addition to the coverage herein provided for or from embodying in such policy any agrement or provision or stipulation not contrary to the provisions of this act and otherwise contrary to law And provided further That separate concurrent policies may be issued by one or several carriers covering respectively (a) personal injury or death as aforesaid and (b) property damage as aforesaid

Section 13 No motor vehicle liability policy shall be issued or delivered in this State until a copy of the form of policy shall have been approved by the Insurance Commissioner The Insurance Commissioner shall approve any form of policy issued by an insurance carrier authorized to do business in Pennsylvania which specifies the name address and business of the insured the coverage afforded by the policy the premium charged therefor the policy period and the limits of liability and contains an agreement that the insurance thereunder is provided in accordance with the coverage required by this act as respects personal injury or death or property damage or both

Section 14 Every such motor vehicle liability policy shall be subject to the following provisions whether or not contained therein

(a) The liability of the said insurance carrier shall become absolute whenever loss or damage covered by such policy occurs and the satisfaction by the insured of a final judgment for such loss or damage shall not be a condition precedent to the right or obligation of the carrier to make payments on account of such loss or damage Provided always That the insurance carrier shall have the right to settle any claim covered by the policy and if such settlement is made in good faith the amount thereof shall be deductible from the limits of liability specified in the policy

(b) No such policy shall be cancelled or annulled as respects any loss or damage by any agreement between the carrier and the insured after the said insured has become responsible for such loss or damage and any such cancellation or annullment is null and void

(c) The policy may provide that the insured or any other person covered by the policy reimburse the insurance carrier for payment made on account of any loss or damage claim or suit involving a breach of the terms provisions or conditions of the policy and further if the policy shall provide for limits in excess of the limits specified in this section the insurance carrier may plead against any plaintiff with respect to the amount of such excess limits of liability any defense or defenses which it may be entitled to plead against the insured and any such policy may further provide for the prorating of the insurance thereunder with other applicable valid and collectible insurance

(d) The policy the written application therefor if any and any rider or endorsement shall not conflict with the provisions of this act and shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(e) The insurance carrier shall upon request of the insured deliver to the insured for filing or at the request of the insured shall file direct with the department an appropriate certificate in conformity with the provisions of this act

(f) Any carrier authorized to issue motor vehicle liability policies may pending the issue of such a policy execute an agreement to be known as a "binder" or may in lieu of such a policy issue an endorsement to an existing policy Every such binder or endorsement shall be subject to the provisions of this section and shall be construed to provide indemnity or insurance in like manner and to the same extent as a motor vehicle liability policy

Section 15 If during said three year period by payment or otherwise the amount required under this act has been reduced below the amount required by this act the insured shall within fifteen days thereafter raise the amount of existing insurance to the amount required by this act and in case he refused so to do within said fifteen days his operator's license or privilege shall again be suspended by the department

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 671, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three hundred twelve three hundred thirteen three hundred fourteen three hundred seventeen three hundred eighteen three hundred nineteen three hundred twenty three hundred twenty-one three hundred twenty-two three hundred twenty-three three hundred twenty-four three hundred twenty-five and three hundred twenty-six of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An Act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by changing the amount of contributions to the retirement fund the retirement age the length of service necessary to entitle members to retirement allowance upon being totally disabled and increasing the number of members of the retirement board and authorizing counties of the second class to make appropriations to an employes retirement fund.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 671, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three hundred twelve three hundred thirteen three hundred fourteen three hundred seventeen three hundred eighteen three hundred nineteen three hundred twenty three hundred twenty-one three hundred twenty-two three hundred twenty-four three hundred twenty-five and three hundred twenty-six of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An Act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by changing the amount of contributions to the retirement fund the retirement age the length of service necessary to entitle members to retirement allowance upon being totally disabled and increasing the number of members of the retirement board and authorizing counties of the second class to make appropriations to an employes retirement fund.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I move that the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, there was a hearing on this bill and a number of people took the trouble to come down to Harrisburg to tell us what this meant. The Committee reported the bill to the floor of the Senate and I think that it is a good bill. The employes of Allegheny County have been paying into the pension fund for twenty years and they should be protected. They are now without a pension and we are trying to establish a pension in Allegheny County for the employees.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, in asking that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar it is for the purpose of endeavoring to work out amendments that will give to the employees of Allegheny County a pension, and to create a pension fund that is sound and workable. In June, 1915, under an act of assembly, there was established in the County of Allegheny, a pension fund which provided that the County should pay out of the taxes not less than one-half per cent. and not more than one per cent. It also provided that the County employees should pay in one per cent. Shortly after the present board of County Commissioners took office it was called to the attention of the board by the County Comptroller that we were working under an insolvent pension fund. The County Commissioners then employed Mr. George Buck, an actuary, the same actuary who prepared the State Employees Retirement Act, the same actuary who prepared the School Teachers Employment Retiring Act. This bill as it was prepared was agreed upon by the County Commissioners, by the County Comptroller, by the County Treasurer, and a representation from the employees, two in number. After the bill had been agreed upon the employees became dissatisfied because the provisions were not as good for them as the old act, and I agree that the provisions in the bill prepared by the actuary were not as valuable to the employees at the time being as the old act, but it would have permitted the County to create and maintain a solvent fund.

It is true, as Senator Coyne has said, we did have a public hearing on the question but that does not change the situation. I have spoken here a sufficient number of times against Senator Coyne to know that what I say to you is not going to have an effect upon you. Nevertheless, before you vote for this bill I feel that you should know just what you are handing to the taxpayers of Allegheny County. Under the plan that is now in operation, on March 1, 1933, there were about 2,100 members in the Fund. The pensioners of the Fund number 253, of which 66 were retired under the disability clause. The Fund has $115,594.54 in cash and $93,000.00 of investments, or total assets of $208,594.54.

To date the County of Allegheny has contributed to this Fund $768,685.08, the Poor Board $34,982.15, and the employees Fund $587,242.15, while $101,473.35 was earned as interest, making the total receipts of the Fund $1,492,382.73.

To date the Fund has paid $1,059,625.80 to pensioners; returned $217,402.92 to employes retiring from the Fund; purchased $93,000.00 of bonds; and spent $6,759.47 for office expenses, a total of $1,376,788.19.

Contributions by employes not as yet on the pension roll are returnable to them upon demand. If all members of the Fund at this time would make this demand, $297,275.84 would be required on almost $9,000.00 more than is in the fund. The Fund's assets are only $208,594.54 or $88,681.30 less than what the demand would amount to or a return of about 70 cents on the dollar if the Fund were liquidated. This would leave nothing in the Fund for present pensioners. Pensioners who have received $1,059,625.80 in pensions have contributed only $72,563.39 to the Fund.

To date 23 pensioners have each received in pensions more than $9,000.00 and as much as $20,100.00, or an average of approximately $11,700.00. One of this group contributed only $16.50 and the greatest amount contributed by any one of them was only $243.85. These 23 pensioners have been paid pensions in the total sum of $268,158.29, although their entire contributions to the Fund amounted to only $2,248.92 or less than one per cent. of the pensions thus far paid them, as will be noted. Other pensioners listed in this statement each received pensions in amounts totaling under $9,000.00. This condition is due to the fact that employes were permitted to join the Fund at its inception and were given credit for the years of service to make them eligible for pensions, but they only contributed to the Fund their assessment from June, 1915, when the Fund commenced, to the date of retiring upon pension.

As I have stated, the total contribution by the employes up to the present time has been $587,242.15, and by the county $768,685.08. I want to point out a few outstanding reasons why the pension fund in Allegheny County is in an insolvent condition:

One man, W. L. Albertson, drew from the fund $11,221.74, and contributed $63.45. Another, Joseph Brownlee, drew from the fund $12,450.00, and contributed $55.30. Another contributed $87.50 and has drawn $14,750.40. Another contributed $41.99 and has drawn $16,582.71. Another has contributed $27.50 and has drawn from the fund $20,100.00.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, that is the reason that the pension fund of Allegheny County is now in an insolvent condition. The bill that was prepared on an actuarial basis attempted to put the fund in a solvent condition, but the provision that is in the employes bill, to which I want to call your particular attention, is a paragraph that reads as follows:

"Appropriations to Retirement Fund. The county commissioners and the poor district shall * * * * prior to February fifteenth of each year set aside, apportion and appropriate out of all taxes and income of said county and county poor district unto the retirement fund."

I asked Attorney General Schnader what was meant by a solvent retirement fund. His answer was that a solvent retirement fund was one based on an actuarial analysis. I asked Mr. Fertig what his interpretation of that language was and he said that it was based on an actuarial analysis.

Well then, this is the point I want you to think about, no matter how you cast your vote. In order to place this pension fund of Allegheny County on an actuarial basis under the provisions of this bill, there must be appropriated by the county commissioners on or before the fifteenth day of February, 1934, $5,228,739. That would be an increase of at least four mills in our county tax. I am perfectly satisfied to have this bill placed on the postponed calendar and endeavor to work out with the county employes an act that would put their fund in a position so it could be resumed, and payment of pensions be resumed but I would be ashamed to go back and face the taxpayers of Allegheny County if I did not stand up and voice my sentiments against any plan that would take from the taxpayers in any one year the sum of $5,228,739.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I call attention that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, are both out of order. The motion before this body now is a matter of postponing action and a discussion of the bill is highly improper. I will ask the Chair to so rule.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I want to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, raised the point of order promptly enough when his man was through speaking.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I again rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I called the attention of the Chair to the point of order after both Senators from Allegheny had spoken on the bill, and I desire to say that, when the proper time comes, I also desire to speak on the bill and wish to be in order when I do so.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MANSFIELD and Mr. HARRIS and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Batchelor,	Homsher,	Rice,	Sones,
Brandt,	Lanius,	Salus,	Thompson,
Buckman,	Mansfield,	Snyder,	Trainer,
Harris,	Prince,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, on the discussion of this bill before the Committee on New Counties and County Seats I was convinced that it was very good legislation. At that meeting there was one question involved in my mind and that was the words keeping this fund solvent. I was assured that the employes of Allegheny County would defeat this bill and I was supported in the contention by Senator Coyne, that the maximum amount that Allegheny County would have to appropriate would be one hundred and twenty to one hundred and thirty thousand dollars. I made a very definite promise to those gentlemen to support this bill I predicted that promise on the fact that it was to be amended. It was to be amended to read for a fixed sum to be appropriated by the Commissioners of Allegheny County. When I made that promise I had the solemn promise from the members of this Committee who had been to this hearing to make that change and amend it, and I stand ready to vote for Senator Coyne's bill, strange as it may seem, if this amendment is put in the bill. I voted for postponement and seconded Senator Mansfield's motion for the purpose of meeting this Committee again and having this amendment made so that I could vote for the bill, but I can not vote for the bill without this amendment. As Senator Mansfield has pointed out, we would have to appropriate close to $5,000,000 to make this Fund solvent, and I repeat again, so that it will be thoroughly understood, that I will vote for this bill if it is amended to substitute a fixed amount, and I remember distinctly that Senator Coyne, in the meeting, agreed that there should be some maximum amount so the County Commissioners would know just what they had to appropriate at the beginning of each year, and I ask the Senators now to vote against this bill, or ask Senator Coyne to agree to have it go over in order, so that we will be able to get together and keep the promise that was made to the Commissioners of Allegheny County and the people of Allegheny County to fix a maximum amount to be appropriated.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am always willing to sit down and talk to any group to amend this bill, to get the Fund in shape where it will be solvent. If this bill passes the Senate today and goes to the House it has at least a week to make the amendment, if it is necessary.

Now about this insolvency of the Pension Fund: A member of the pension association of Allegheny County told us at that meeting that if the County Commissioners would pay them what they owed them, which I think is seventy-six thousand dollars, that the fund would be solvent for two years. They are willing to raise their own membership dues from one to three and they want the Commissioners to raise their pro rata share the same. If they do that the Fund will be solvent. Now the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, stressed the fact that some men in Allegheny County have received more money out of the Pension Fund than they have paid in. That was already the case when this Pension Fund went into effect, there were men who would be eligible for pension the next year and naturally those people did not pay much into the Fund and they have received pension ever since. That is true of all pensions. The former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court never paid anything into the pension fund until two years ago and he gets ten thousand dollars a year pension. If he lives twenty years he will be getting more than any man or woman in Allegheny County will ever get, and that is no fault of his. The Judges started to pay into the Pension Fund two or three years ago and will pay from now on to keep that fund solvent; nevertheless, the retired men have reaped the benefit of the Fund that was created, and the same way with the Fund in Allegheny County. The pension bill that Senator Mansfield refers to was more of an insurance than a pension. Those men worked for Allegheny County from thirty to thirty-five years, some of them forty, and were left under the impression that they had a pension coming when they retired, a certain amount, and all of a sudden the Commissioners refused to pay into the Fund what they were supposed to pay, one-half per cent at least. Instead of that last year they did not pay anything, they told me. If they pay that in they would be solvent for at least two years. I would like to see this bill passed, go to the House and then insert any amendments that they agree upon.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I never did think it was good legislation to pass the buck from one body of this General Assembly to the other. If this bill is all right as it is written then it is perfectly proper to send it over to the House; if it is not all right there is no reason why it should be sent over to the House and ask them to amend it. Senator Coyne is mistaken when he makes the statement, and I do not criticise him for it, because the employes are mistaken when they say they believe that the county owes this Fund any money. By the Act under which this Fund is operated, the minimum amount that could be paid into the county over the period of years that this Fund has been in operation is $436,092.16. The amount the county did pay into the fund was $768,685.08. over fifty per cent more than they were obligated under the law to pay into the Fund. I have always felt that any retirement or pension fund should require the employes to pay in an equal amount with the taxpayers. I am in favor of the employes of Allegheny County having a pension fund, but the taxpayers of Allegheny County have a few checks in this game and should be considered when it comes to passing a bill that would burden them to an extent that they could not bear. The County Commissioners are perfectly willing to go fifty-fifty with the employes in this Fund, but under this plan the employes' contribution would be increased from one to three per cent, and they would be required to pay in one hundred and thirty thousand dollars next year, while the Commissioners would be required to pay in five million five hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I would be delighted.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, did the Commissioners pay any dues to the pension fund for 1932?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, yes, sir; they paid seventy-five thousand dollars, which was more than was required under the act. They also approved in addition this year seventy-five thousand dollars, but it has not been paid in because the county solicitor gave us a written opinion that the fund was insolvent and we could neither legally pay in or pay out of it.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, did the Commissioners of Allegheny county appropriate one hundred and seventy thousand dollars for an audit in Allegheny County?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, yes, sir; and it was worth several times what it cost.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, were the taxpayers of Allegheny County considered when the hundred and seventy thousand dollars were appropriated?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, yes, sir. We did that for the advantage of the County of Allegheny to the extent of half a million dollars. If it had not been for the audit in Allegheny County, it would not have developed that the Fund was in the condition it was, and these employes who have been depending on retiring on this Fund and who are not able to work anywhere else would have found this fund was insolvent several years after this and that there was nothing to pay them with.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, outside of discovering that this Fund was insolvent, is that the only thing that was discovered in Allegheny County for the benefit of the taxpayers?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, no, we have discovered a lot of things in Allegheny County.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, there was one man employed by the name of Conick?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I did not become a party to employing auditors in Allegheny County.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Senators are not discussing the bill.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I would like to continue the discussion.

The PRESIDENT. The Senators will confine themselves to the merits of the bill.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I am for conserving the taxpayers' money, and I will assure you that the paying to the Pension Fund of money from the taxpayers is more essential than spending it for other purposes; and I was going to ask the Senator if they have indicted one man as the result of this audit, and the courts released him by nol prossing the case because they did not have anything on him.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, my object in being a party to the audit of Allegheny County was not to indict anyone. My object was to straighten out the financial affairs of the county. And anyone who examines the audit made by Main and Company will discover that hundreds of thousands of dollars were wasted. Hundreds of thousands of dollars that should be on the books charged against different municipalities had not been charged, and in the end, when it is all over, the audit will pay the biggest dividend Allegheny County has ever had.

The PRESIDENT. The Senators will confine themselves to the bill before the Senate.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I am trying to show the members of the Senate that it is more essential to appropriate the taxpayers' money to help old people who have given thirty or forty years service than it is to slander the good names of men by indicting them and then having the cases nol-prossed by the judges of Allegheny County. We hear a lot about conserving the taxpayer's money, but I assure you that the present Commissioners who have done some good, a lot of good, instead of wasting the taxpayers' money, should have paid it into the Pension Fund, I am for the pensioners of the county and city, for those who have served the county thirty or forty years.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I think this matter can be very easily adjusted, at least so far as I am concerned. There are just three words in this bill that require changing "shall keep solvent," and if there is an amendment made with these three words stricken out, I will vote for this bill. This can be very easily adjusted by letting the bill go over in order. I will prepare the amendment, have it here for this afternoon's Session, if we have one, and present the amendment and vote for the bill. If that can be done, it will save a lot of trouble and a lot of discussion, and I ask unanimous consent to let this bill go over in order for the purpose of preparing this small amendment.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I want to place on record as a member of the Senate, that I do not think it is right to put this Senate in a position that we are asking the taxpayers of Allegheny County to appropriate within six months or one year, five million dollars. I want to say that at the meeting before the Committee on New Counties and County Seats I never heard the word "Five Million Dollars" mentioned. I heard the words "One hundred and seventy thousand dollars" mentioned. And this is all news to me. I believe our Committee was practically unanimous in reporting the bill out, as Senator Coyne has said, to have this bill come out to the Senate and have proper amendments placed in the bill. I can take his word, and I believe every member of the Senate will take his word, but it should not go out to the public that we are spending five million dollars to save the Pension Fund. I have the highest regard for Senator Mansfield's veracity, and if that had come before the Committee on New Counties and County Seats, I feel confident that the bill would not be on the calendar. We had an actuary there that was employed, he did not say anything about the five million dollars, and I believe if this bill is passed, as Senator Coyne said this morning he is satisfied it shall be done, it can be placed in proper shape in the House. I for one would like to see it passed and will vote for it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Einstein.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Einstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would like to say that I did not hear a discussion in the committee room, but there was an agreement made by the committee of the employes that the maximum amount expended by the Commissioners would be about a hundred and thirty thousand dollars?

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, and we were assured that would be in the bill?

Mr. EINSTEIN. I understand the employes stated at that meeting that the County Commissioners would appropriate three per cent provided the employes would contribute three per cent. Is that correct?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. EINSTEIN. I have heard more about the word "solvent" than anything else before that committee, and it seems nobody can interpret that, and I don't know today what the word "solvent" would mean in connection with this Fund. It seems to me nobody could offer an explanation of that word "solvent."

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to remind the Senator from Allegheny that the amendment I desire to offer would eliminate the word "solvent."

Mr. EINSTEIN. May I interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, why did not the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, bring that before the committee?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, because I had a very definite promise from the members of the employes' committee that an amendment would be prepared and inserted in the bill, and until Senator Mansfield's eloquent speech this morning, which he made when he was out of order, I found then that this amendment had not been prepared.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, am I to understand that this is the correct version of the matter, that there was an understanding between the Senators from Allegheny and the committee which came down from Allegheny county in regard to a certain sum to be inserted in the bill, and not the understanding with the Committee on New Counties and County Seats itself?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I would like to say a few words in answer to the statement of Senator Einstein. We all understand one another, there cannot be any misunderstanding as far as I am concerned. When we had the public hearing we went over these bills very thoroughly and while Mr. Buck, the actuary, and myself were trying to convince the representatives of the employes association that some amendment should be made to the bill, the Committee of New Counties and County Seats met when I was not there and reported out the bill, knowing that I was not there to give any opinion about it. But as far as the $5,228,739 that the taxpayers of Allegheny County must place on the dotted line before February 15th is concerned I just got that information this morning. The actuary, who has been in New York City working on the bill from the time of the public hearing up until yesterday, worked out just exactly what the taxpayers would have to pay under Senator Coyne's bill, and it was mailed to me this morning. I had this bill put over in order yesterday and talked to Senator Coyne about it and we both talked to the representatives of the employes association this morning, and the last word of the representatives of the employes association was that they would be perfectly satisfied to have this bill go over until next Monday and have it amended.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I again call attention to the fact that we are all out of order.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, Senator Mansfield says he was not at that meeting to report the bill out. Were you there?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I was not present at the meeting when this bill was reported out.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Amend section 42, page 34, line 23, by striking out the figure "42" and inserting in lieu thereof "36." Amend section 43, page 35, by striking out all of lines 21 to 29, inclusive.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, you will find that most of the amendments pertain to the numbering of the paragraphs to make the amended bill correspond to the actual paragraphs that are still left in the bill. The vital portions of the bill are that they cut out the commission form for the granting of licenses, which this bill now has, with the exception of the city of Philadelphia. The city of Philadelphia, under the bill as it now exists, would have the licenses granted by the court. In addition to that it cuts out the appropriation in section forty-three of the bill. I understand that this appropriation was reduced from six hundred thousand to three hundred thousand in the amendments that were to be introduced afterwards, if this amendment should fail. The purpose of the amendment is that after a conference held with a great many of the Senators it was the consensus of opinion that this so-called beer granting privilege should not create any new machinery, and above all should not call for an appropriation of any money, inasmuch as there is now a system in existence which could grant licenses, just as it did heretofore, to wit, the courts of the various counties in this Commonwealth. It would save, for instance, on commissions alone, thirty commissioners at thirty-five hundred dollars apiece, would be a saving right there of one hundred and five thousand dollars, without any hotel expenses, railroad expenses, or anything else. It naturally would save six hundred thousand dollars appropriation which, as I have stated, amounted in the amendments to three hundred thousand dollars. We could scarcely go back to our folks and say at this particular time that we were setting up machinery to spend money for the granting of licenses when there are so many people in the Commonwealth who are anxious for something to eat and shelter.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Finance Committee, the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, the effect of these amendments on the bill as stated and on the Senator's desk.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it was impossible for me to follow the amendments as they were read.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not see how it is possible for the Senators to intelligently vote on these amendments at this time not knowing more about them. There are a lot of amendments here, strike outs of amendments in the bill, insertions, and without the bill with the amendments I do not see how the Senators can intelligently vote on these amendments. The bill as written is certainly what I have frequently called half-baked legislation. Instead of being an act to regulate the traffic in malt liquor, it seems to me, it should have been entitled an act to place the granting of beer licenses in politics and to create twenty-seven new jobs at thirty-five hundred dollars each and give half of them to Democrats. I do not know, I rather take it from what I have heard and what I could gather from the desk when these amendments were read, that some of those objectionable features are taken out, but whether all have been taken out or not I do not know. It seems to me it is a very unfortunate time to try to rush through this Legislature anything that is as important as this bill. The sponsors have said we must do something by April 7th. If they know that now they knew it at the beginning of this Session and why they did not get this bill in shape prior to this time is more than I can tell and if they do not get it through by April 7th it will be their fault and not ours.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I wish to assure the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, as well as every other Senator in this room, that it has not been my habit in the past, and I assure you it is not going to be my habit during my tenure in the Senate, to make the mistake on the floor of the Senate of stating what I propose to do and propose not to do.

I stated here that these amendments took out the appropriation of six hundred thousand dollars as it now exists. In addition to that it amends the title, naturally. In addition to that they destroy all machinery setting up these various commissions, destroy the ten classifications and put the rest of the counties of the Commonwealth exactly on a par with the city of Philadelphia, to wit, that any licenses that will be granted in the future, if we ever reach that point, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, irrespective of whether it is Forest, Schuylkill, Philadelphia, or whatever it may be, will be granted by the court of quarter session. Now that is all that these amendments do. If you will start at number eleven, and start there, amend section eighteen, page seventeen, line fifteen, by striking out the figure eighteen and inserting in lieu thereof the figure twelve, and so on down to the finish. Why is that necessary? Because if that were not done it is manifest that the bill would be incorrectly numbered, the paragraphs, and that is why. This thing appears to be a very bulky and voluminous matter and may have caused some confusion on account of the clerk having gone through it so diligently, whereas he might have, with a great deal of propriety, if the question had not been raised, omitted a great number of these sections, because all that we did is to renumber the paragraphs, which is occasioned by the fact that a great number of paragraphs are omitted under this amended form.

I can assure each and every Senator in this body that all these amendments do is cut out this commission form, places all the counties of the Commonwealth on a par with Philadelphia county, take out the expenditure of the appropriation of a sum of money for the dispensation of beer, because this is no time, in my humble opinion, to be creating commissions of any kind and it is certainly no time, in my opinion, for the spending of money for setting up machinery to do—what? To distribute beer and sell beer, be it intoxicating or not intoxicating. The machinery now exists in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as it did prior to the passage of the Volstead Act, for the granting of licenses through the quarter sessions courts, without any new machinery whatsoever. If this bill is passed here and goes over to the House and is concurred in, then is approved by the Governor, you present your petition to the courts of quarter sessions and if the judges see fit to grant you a license they do so and if they do not see fit it says that they have to write an opinion and give their reason in it. That is the position this bill will be in if these amendments are adopted. I will ask each and every Senator to bear with me and if he finds out I have stated my position incorrectly or that there is something else contained in these amendments other than I have stated here—well, for the first time I have taken the floor in the Senate and it will be an awful bad start.

When I came over here I made a firm resolve that I would not during my first session make a speech—before it was an old German saying, but I will give it to you in English—at least I had been dry behind my ears. I did not think it would be necessary to get up here on the beer bill to make my first speech.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeirer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have every confidence in the Senator from Schuylkill, but I would like to ask a question or two as to the effect of this amendment, whether this amendment would put the bill in substantially the form as the Brooks high license law?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, yes, except in this, that under the Brooks law, in granting licenses, it was not necessary for the court to render an opinion. For instance, the petition went up from the clerk of the court and came back to the clerk of the court, in some places to the prothonotary, stamped "refused" or "granted," but here the court is called upon to write an opinion if granted or refused and it goes to another court on appeal.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask if this bill is passed on second reading today and third reading tomorrow, whether it is possible to set up any machinery for granting licenses prior to April 7th.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I think not. As far as April 7th is concerned, I think we better forget that. It is water over the dam.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, can the Senator say how long it would take before these licenses can be granted in some counties of the State?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, as far as my case is concerned, it is satisfactory to me personally. I would not try to force it on any one else. I do not know how long the Governor would keep it on his desk, if it should reach there. If the Governor signs the bill, there is nothing, as far as I see, to prevent drawing up petitions and sending them to the court.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Schuylkill for his very able and illuminating answer.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. Reed. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I was not in the Senate when the Senator made his remarks. I would like some information, under the bill and under the amendment, with respect to the license fees and to whom the licenses are paid.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, the license fee—on Page 20, section 25, "License fees, distribution of revenues"—now, if you follow that, the second section, you can readily see how this money is distributed between the county and the borough or township, as the case may be, or cities. I might say in passing that there are some Senators who feel that there should be some change here as to that feature of the bill. There is some defect about the distribution, but I am saying here now that these amendments will correct that.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, do I understand that all of the license goes within the county, and part to the State?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, part to the State and part to the county.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 890 (House Bill No. 1681), entitled:

An Act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt brewed and vinous and fruit juice beverages as herein defined creating a commission for each of several districts defining their powers and the powers of the courts of districts of the first class providing for the licensing of the manufacture sale transportation and distribution of such beverages imposing taxes and license fees and providing for collection and distribution of revenues therefrom restricting ownership and interest in licensed places making appropriations penalties and repealing existing acts

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to amendments?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I would like the sponsor of the amendments to tell the effect they would have on the bill.

Mr. SYNDER. Mr. President, in explanation of these amendments, if the members of the Senate will refer to page twenty-four, line twenty-seven, they will notice that the language used in the first portion of the amendment is the same language used in the latter portion of the amendment, to wit, "No retail distributor shall maintain any bar at which beverages are served to customers or sell any beverages for consumption on the licensed premises except at a table in a room or rooms or place on the licensed premises at all times accessible to the use and accommodation of the general public, and the windows, doors or entrances of such rooms or places shall permit free and unobstructed visibility of the interior thereof. A retail distributor may sell and deliver beverages in any room of a hotel occupied by a bona fide registered guest entitled to purchase the same."

With regard to the first portion of the amendment, there is no change, and the amendment was only necessary to complete the language following the word "thereof" in line twenty-six on page twenty-four. Now, in regard to the second portion of the amendment, the following language is stricken out as proposed in the amendment, and which language I shall read from the bill as we now have it. Page twenty-four at the twenty-seventh line: "No retail distributor shall maintain any bar at which beverages are served to customers or sell any beverages for consumption on the licensed premises except at a table in a room or rooms or place on the licensed premises at all times accessible to the use and accommodation of the general public, and the windows, doors or entrances of such rooms or places shall permit free and unobstructed visibility of the interior thereof." The amendment strikes out or proposes to strike out all that language, and the language which is substituted in its stead is the proposed amendment itself, which perhaps needs a more lengthy explanation.

By this amendment there will be removed from this bill all this provision, which to me seems perhaps bordering on the ridiculous, and that is that the man who dispenses these beverages is required by the bill to sell only at tables, and in addition thereto, if the language is followed on the top of page twenty-seven, you will see the impossibility of complying with this provision, to wit, that the windows, door or entrances of such rooms or places shall permit free and unabstructed visibility of the interior thereof, containing the implication, of course, that these beverages can be sold only on the first floor of the building, and further containing the implication, if I may go so far as to say, that the doors, perhaps, must have no curtains, the windows must have no curtains, and you could easily read into the language almost any provision which would border on the ridiculous, requiring the man or company or corporation operating such a place directly doing what I regard as being impossible of doing unless they would limit those selling this beverage on the first floor and complying with certain matters which to me I think they should not be called upon to comply with. Beyond that, if the Chair will grant me further indulgence, there is a further reason for these amendments. It goes beyond perhaps the bill itself, but my explanation to my colleague, Senator McClure, would not be complete unless I would make this statement.

I am just a little bit suspicious, and that is the entire reason of offering the amendments, because the ardent dries of the State would very much enjoy provisions of this kind, and they have delayed the passage of this bill, at least as far as I personally am concerned, for an hour or two in the preparation of these amendments, for even they themselves surely adhere to the doctrine that the least governed people are the best governed.

I also want to say frankly I have not understood that the presence of a bar any place would necessarily make the place a saloon, and when I say that I believe I am going to the very gist of the amendments themselves. I do not hesitate in this explanation to stand before you and say that the presence of a bar in a place has never increased or decreased the sobriety of our people.

I further believe that if we had avoided the great mistake made some years ago when we were told what we could drink, this provision in the bill would not now go so far as to tell us we must sit down when we drink it; and that to my mind does not improve the sobriety or moral standards of our people. To me it looks like a foolish regulation. To me it seems that the language of that act is almost laughable. I doubt whether there is one member of this Senate who wants to have that restriction as it is there worded remain. I do not believe anything can be gained by such a restriction. Furthermore, If I should happen to refer to the language used by the Governor of this State, as quoted in The Evening News of this city, I find the following in connection with this proposed beer legislation. Quoting from that paper, I read: "I am against two things, first, the return of the saloon; and, second, such brazen political mixing of beer and politics as is intended in the rank proposition to have beer licenses in Philadelphia, Allegheny, and five other counties passed out by commissions named by Republican and Democratic county committees."

Now, this is apart from the explanation of my colleague from Schuylkill county. I think that second proposition has been very ably handled. But the Governor says also that he is against the return of the saloon; and as the saloon was once, one of the rooms upon the premises where there was nothing but a bar, I would say I also agree with the Governor, and that my amendment, so far as those are concerned, the language should be entirely pleasing to the Governor of this Commonwealth, because it is not possible to permit the return of the saloon. It means just this in plain words, that if these amendments are adopted, and beer, whether it is intoxicating in fact or only in law, will be sold in hotels, it will be sold in other places where that portion of the building is given over to the conducting, lawful conducting of a restaurant or dining-room. My attention has been called to the fact that that might put hotels out of business where there were only bars and nothing else. That is my notion of a saloon, and I would not at all defend the return of a business where there is a bar and nothing else. So my amendments are even more restrictive than you would have them be.

And that Mr. President, completes my feeble explanation of the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A division being called for, twenty-six Senators voted in the affirmative and sixteen in the negative.

Whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

And the question, recurring,

ADJOURNMENT

The SECRETARY. The Governor and Mrs. Pinchot have invited the members of the General Assembly to a buffet dinner at the Executive Mansion at 6 P. M. on Monday, April 10th. The dinner will be informal. The invitations have been mailed to the home addresses of the members.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 9.30 o'clock.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5.53 P. M. until Thursday morning, April 6, 1933, at 9.30 o'clock A. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 5, 1933.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

O God, our merciful Heavenly Father, we join the President of the United States and our countrymen, in expressing our profound grief for the victims of the ill-fated airship Akron. Look with infinite pity upon the families bereft of loved ones, and sustain them in their sorrow.

We invoke Thy blessing upon our Speaker and the ladies and gentlemen of the House today. Legislators more than any other group in the Commonwealth today are the subjects of congratulation, commiseration, or condemnation. Grant, O God, that the members of the General Assembly may have the patience, courage and strength to carry on their constructive work in behalf of the citizenry of the State and bring this session of the Legislature, to an auspicious close.

For the good of the people and the glory of God. Amen.

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Uniontown Hospital Association,
Uniontown, Pennsylvania, April 3, 1933.

Hon. Robert B. Sterling, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir: Inasmuch as the Hospital Appropriations Bill will be coming up for consideration in the near future, I am making another appeal to you to ask your kind assistance in trying to secure for us an increase over our present appropriation, and in order that you may have first-hand facts before you in considering this appeal, I am attaching herewith a condensed statement of the free work which has been approved by the Department of Welfare, from June 1, 1931, to February 28, 1933, showing a total number of free days already dispensed in the sum of 29,527 days, which multiplied by the $3.00 per day allowed for this service shows a total of $88,581 involved in this service. In the recent quarter, beginning December 1, 1932, and ending February 28, 1933, there has been a heavy increase in the free service rendered and it is only fair to assume that for the next biennium we are going to be called upon more than ever to take care of the deserving sick who are without funds to underwrite any hospital expense. Anticipating that we will give approximately 4500 free days for the next quarter of the present biennium, beginning March 1, 1933, and ending May 31, 1933, it will show that we have provided approximately 34,000 free days for the entire biennium and this figure multiplied by the $3.00 per day allowance will prove that we have supplied $102,000 worth of free service against which we will have received in full the sum of $56,700 from the Welfare Department.

I feel that you will agree with me that this is a burden that is almost impossible to shoulder, and if it is at all possible, we all sincerely trust that you will make every effort toward having our allowance increased to the largest possible figure.

Our entire Board of Trustees joins me in this petition and we all sincerely trust that something may develop which will permit a substantial increase in our appropriation for the next two years.

Very sincerely yours,

JOHN FARRELL, Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS

RECESS

Mr. SOWERS offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, April 3, 1933.

Whereas, The present size of the calendar of bills and the great additional number of bills that will probably be reported by committees within the next two weeks makes it impossible for members to give to such measures the close study that is necessary in order to intelligently vote upon them; and

Whereas, A sufficient length of time to allow such study under the system of weekly adjournments would add considerably to the cost of the session; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That when the General Assembly completes its work during the week of April 10th, it shall take a recess for two weeks and convene again on the 8th day of May at 9 o'clock P. M.; and be it further

Resolved, That during such recess, the per diem compensation payable to employes of the General Assembly shall cease and be suspended.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE FOR ADOPTION OF FIVE DAY WEEK FOR LABOR

Mr. QUINN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, April 4, 1933.

The necessity of permanently solving the unemployment problem in this Commonwealth and restoring to the thousands who are eager to work the right and privilege of being self supporting, demands the most drastic action.

Over production through the use of labor saving machinery has made man power a problem, and the restoration of normal manufacturing, buying and selling activities can only be brought about by a reduction of working days and a redistribution of man power.

The reduction, by employers of labor, of the days per week required of employes would mean the employment of more persons to produce the same output and would assist in the needed distribution of labor; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a committee, consisting of five Senators appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, five Members of the House appointed by the Speaker of the House, and five citizens of the Commonwealth appointed by the Governor, is hereby created for the purpose of devising means of bringing about within the Commonwealth the adoption of a five-day week for labor.

That such committee shall meet and organize immediately after the appointment of the members thereof, and shall make a full and complete investigation of the probable effect of the adoption of the five-day week on the industries of Pennsylvania, and the means to be used in order to accomplish such adoption.

The committee is authorized to take such action as may be within its power to bring about the adpotion by employers of labor of a five-day week as speedily as possible, if convinced that such action would be beneficial.

The committee is further authorized to make a report of its conclusions to the next session of the Legislature and accompany such report with drafts of bills intended to carry into effect its recommendations.

The members of said committee shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for actual expenses necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties, to be provided for by an item to be inserted in the general appropriation bill.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 70.

An Act to amend sections sixty-nine and seventy-one of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred ninety-four) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" by increasing the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways

HOUSE BILL No. 206.

An Act requiring the Board of county commissioners of counties of the second class on approval of the president judge of the court of common pleas of said counties to fix the compensation of fire marshals and to require the Board of County Commissioners of counties of the second class subject to the approval of the common pleas court to provide for the retirement of such fire marshals on annual pensions after twenty years of service such compensation and pension to be payable by the county

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. House Bill No. 9, Printer's No. 152 was recommitted to the Committee on State Government, after having passed second reading on March 7th. It was re-reported as committed on April 3rd, and placed on the final passage calendar in error on April 4th, page 26. This bill has not been read for the third time therefore it will be necessary to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed finally in order to comply with the requirements of the Constitution.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 9, Printer's No. 152, entitled

An Act to amend and further amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-three), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," making further provision for the settlement, assessment, collection, lien, and procedure for collection of taxes, and other moneys due the Commonwealth.

passed finally be reconsidered

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will Mr. Speaker, although I feel that there is very little reason why we should delay this matter this morning. The bill passed the other day, but go ahead.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, may I call the gentleman's attention to the fact that when this bill passed the other day, the House did not have called to its attention the importance of the measure. It is a very important measure to the House and to the Commonwealth. Will the gentleman from Delaware state whether or not it is his purpose to amend this bill, either here or in the Senate insofar as concerns the executive board reference?

Mr. TURNER. I do.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware state whether or not by the terms of this measure the functions of the Auditor General of the Commonwealth are extended beyond those which presently are vested in the Auditor General under the Administrative Code and the Fiscal Code?

Mr. TURNER. It does, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware state whether or not the passage of this bill will take away from the Department of Revenue some of the important functions now vested in that department both by the Administrative Code and the Fiscal Code?

Mr. TURNER. It will not, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman says "important functions now vested."

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware say whether or not if this bill passes the functions that are now vested in the Department of Revenue will be transferred to the Auditor General?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that by this bill the functions which are duplications and which are assumed by the Department of Revenue under a construction of the Fiscal Code are eliminated.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is a companion bill to House Bill No. 22, and it seeks by the same method to change what has become the basic form of the administration of State government.

Under existing law the Auditor General's Department of the Commonwealth is vested with authority to audit the books and accounts of the various departments of the State government.

Prior to the passage of the administrative code, the Auditor General's office had a double function. One was to audit the books and accounts of the department heads and also to collect revenue. With the passage of the Fiscal Code all of the revenue collecting function in the Auditor General's office was transferred, and properly so, to the Department of Revenue. Under the Fiscal Code it became the duty and responsibility of the Department of Revenue to collect all the revenue of the Commonwealth and it became the power and duty of the Auditor General to audit the accounts of the departments of the Commonwealth, including, mind you, the Department of Revenue.

In the collection of the revenue of the Commonwealth, just like the collection of accounts receivable by any business, the collecting agency must have the right to go out into the field and make an examination of the books and accounts of the taxpayers. Under our present setup this is not the authority of the Auditor General's office, and for the sake of efficiency and good administration I submit to you that it should not be the authority of the Auditor General's office.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just as I illustrated to you yesterday, although ineffectually, that the passage of House Bill No. 22 was a step backward, here again I submit to you that the passage of this measure is a step backward. I do not believe that we should sell the rights of the Commonwealth falsely for the sake of economies that cannot be proven by this measure. It is our duty to maintain the effective administration of our government, and you cannot do it and you won't do it by the passage of this bill.

I submit to you that the bill deserves the negative vote of this House.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I simply have this to say relative to the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia. This bill, as has been announced by the Chair, was passed finally yesterday. The Chair has discovered an error in the fact that this bill has not passed third reading. So, it is now before you for the first time curing a constitutional defect in the proceedings.

When this bill was before the House yesterday, the gentleman from Philadelphia was in his seat, he was following the procedure very closely and he had the opportunity to present any arguments that he saw fit with reference to this measure.

The House has voted upon this measure and the only purpose of presenting it at this time is in order to cure this constitutional defect. As far as the merits of the bill are concerned, I feel certain that the members of this House considered the matter yesterday and that upon this consideration it will do the same.

I ask you therefor to give this bill an affirmative vote.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUTTON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Franklin recall the vote on this bill yesterday?

Mr. HUTTON. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Franklin state to the House what that vote was?

Mr. HUTTON. The vote was, Mr. Speaker 194 to 1, as I recall.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Franklin know who voted "no" on that bill?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I do not. I have no information on that score.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Franklin has told you that the vote on this bill yesterday was one hundred and eighty odd to one.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman stated that the vote was 194 to 1.

Mr. PHILLIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, 194 to 1 makes my point even more forcible. When bills pass this House on the basis of 194 to 1, it become most obvious that the House was not at that moment attentive to the calendar.

May I say to the members of this House, that the one vote that was recorded against this measure yesterday was my vote, and I would not have voted that way had not the measure come to my attention during the roll call. It is a mighty good thing that the Constitution provides that a bill must be read three times on three different days.

That safeguard that the Constitution gives us is illustrated by the situation that is before you today, and I submit to the House because it erred yesterday is no reason why it should not today stand up and correct that error.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret that it is necessary, to my mind, for me to rise this morning and answer the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

My throat is in a very bad shape and I am suffering from an intense headache, and it was not occasioned by things that happened after I left this House.

As the gentleman from Philadelphia has said, the purpose of this bill is an amendment to the fiscal code. The purpose also is to cut out a duplication of the auditing that is being performed in the State today, and the amendment therefore is not a step backward. Certainly the object of not only the genltman from Philadelphia, but every other member of this House, who are interested in the question of economy in our State government, is to cut out duplication of effort wherever it is possible.

Under the Constitution of Pennsylvania there has been created the Department of the Auditor General, and it runs back into our early Constitution and certainly the intention of the framers, as anyone can see who reads the Constitution, is to set up a check upon our fiscal affairs.

The Auditor General's Department in the minds of most of the members with whom I have discussed this subject and who are familiar with the affairs of this State is that the step we are taking should be taken. When you transfer some of that power from the Department of the Auditor General over to the Revenue Department, and both the Auditor General and the Revenue Department audit, then I say you are wasting the taxpayers' money, and any act that will cut that out is not a step backward but a step forward for efficiency and business administration.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, just let me give you a simple illustration of what has happened. Down in my county, in the township in which I live, is a justice of the peace. He has very little business and one day three representatives of the Revenue Department came to his office and spent a whole day auditing the books, which should have taken one man about an hour or two at the outside. A few days later arrived from the Auditor General's Department one man who spent two or three hours auditing the books of this justice of the peace. In other words, from two departments, from the Revenue Department and the Auditor General's Department, came representatives of the State to audit the accounts of that justice of the peace, and that is being done up and down through every bit of your local government. The Revenue Department justifies it on the ground that they must make the examination to see that they are getting the right amount of taxes. Well, if one auditor cannot do that, then there is something wrong. Let me just give you one other illustration that will show you what this amounts to in dollars and cents. During the biennium of 1929 to 1931, it cost seven hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars to operate the Department of Revenue and that Department collected, as I recall it, something over fifteen million dollars. In the biennium 1931 to 1933 the expenses were figured somewhere around $1,429,750. In other words, it cost almost twice as much in 1931-1933 to operate that Department as it did in 1929 to 1931, and the department collected less money than it had heretofore. The appropriation that is asked for the biennium from 1933 to 1935 is one million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, because a large amount of this cost and expense arises not from the detailed duties of collecting taxes, but from this assumed duty on the part of the Department of Revenue to go out and audit everything. All of the accounts in your court houses, all of the accounts in your cities, all of the accounts of your officials, all of the accounts of your justices of the peace are audited and reaudited, and audited and reaudited by gangs of men who go out in duplication. If you want to spend that amount of the taxpayers' money then just vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Counties, for further study

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I see absolutely no reason for recommitting this bill. This bill was referred to the Committee on Counties about a month ago. Since that time it has been in sub-committee and given due consideration. It was reported out of the Committee on Counties yesterday by unanimous vote of that committee, and there is absolutely no reason for recommitting this bill for further study.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I state to the members of this House, that this bill come from the Committee on Counties, and relates only to cities of the second class. There appears to be a great deal of misunderstanding. Since the bill was referred to the Committee on Counties and reported to the floor of this Huose, a great number of questions have arisen with respect to it. The request that I have made here, that it be recommitted for further study, in the absence of the Chairman of that Committee, Mr. Conner, who is not here this morning, is made on his behalf as chairman of that committee. I have no personal interest in the matter at all.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I differ with the gentleman from Philadelphia. This bill does not apply to cities of the second class, but applies to counties of the second class and to the county of Allegheny only. It takes in my district in particular. There are absolutely other motives in recommitting this bill than what the gentleman has told you.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion to recomit this bill.

As Mr. Hoffman has told you, this is Senate Bill No. 194. This bill passed the Senate and came to the House on February 7th, when it was referred to the Committee on Counties. The bill has been in the Committee on Counties since that time, up until yesterday. This bill applies only to second class counties. The purpose of this bill is to make the building of bridges in Allegheny County and the placing of tolls thereon to liquidate loans which will be necessary from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. That is the real purpose of the bill. We have real need for this legislation in Allegheny County. There is not a harmful idea in it; a county bridge to be built, as Mr. Hoffman has said, in his legislative district, crossing the Monongahela River and eliminating two most dangerous grade crossings. The county of Allegheny has contemplated the construction of this bridge for a number of years, and Allegheny county has not been able to build the bridge because of lack of finances.

All that we are asking you members of the House today is to give this bill a chance on the floor of this House, in order that Allegheny County may go to the R. F. C. and borrow the money to build this most important structure. I believe that this House has had full time to understand and study the bill. I believe that the conditions of the bill are most clear. We ask you in all fairness to pass it and give Allegheny county a chance to build this most needed structure. I would ask you to vote against this motion to recommit this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hoffman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hoffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOFFMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think we would all like to understand this measure. I am somewhat hazy as to whether this is a charge on toll bridges entering Allegheny county, such as we have here in Harrisburg?

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, in the county of Allegheny this bill permits the county commissioners to get the money to build a bridge, to get the money from the R. F. C. and assess tolls for its payment. At this time the county is no position financially to get funds otherwise. This bridge will protect the lives of the people in my district and at this time it is very necessary. The bill applies only to the county of Allegheny. It permits the county to assess a toll on bridges exceeding in cost four hundred thousand dollars until the payment thereof.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has said that it only affects Allegheny county. Would not the collection of the toll affect all the people?

Mr. HOFFMAN. Absolutely, Mr. Speaker; anybody that goes over it. Doesn't the one here in Harrisburg affect all the people?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hoffman and Mr. McClure and were as follows:

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 627 (Senate Bill No. 102), entitled:

An Act authorizing county treasurers to make, execute, acknowledge and deliver deeds of seated lands sold by them for delinquent taxes under the provisions of an act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1684), entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the county treasurers of the several counties of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all seated lands upon which taxes assessed on such seated lands by authority of any county, borough, town, township, school district and poor district are delinquent and remain unpaid, and fixing penalties for such delinquency; authorizing county commissioners to purchase such lands under certain circumstances;" prior to its repeal, notwithstanding that said deeds were not made, issued, acknowledged or delivered and surplus bond not given prior to said repeal; and authorizing the making, execution, acknowledgment and delivery of said deeds by said county treasurers after the expiration of term of office or by their successors in office; and confirming the title to lands so sold where the deeds have been made, executed and delivered and the surplus bonds filed since the repeal of said act, and whether the said deeds were made, executed or delivered by the county treasurer who made said sale during the term of his office or after its expiration, or by his successor in office.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2102 (Senate Bill No. 721), entitled:

An Act authorizing stock corporations, with certain exceptions, to make provisions for, and to issue, shares of capital stock of any class or classes, or to change shares of authorized or outstanding capital stock of any class into one or more classes, with or without nominal or par value, and with such designations, terms, relative rights, powers, privileges, preferences, limitations, restrictions and qualifications as may be specified; regulating such corporations and the liabilities of their directors; making other provisions relating to the capital and capital stock of such corporations; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2101 (Senate Bill No. 720), entitled:

An Act to authorize certain corporations organized under the laws of Pennsylvania, including railroad corporations organized under the laws of Pennsylvania and of any other state or states, to increase or decrease the par value of the shares of their capital stock; providing that such change of par value of shares may reduce the aggregate par value of outstanding capital stock, or alter or affect the division of authorized capital stock as between outstanding stock and authorized stock unissued; prescribing the manner in which such change shall be made; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1490 (Senate Bill No. 460), entitled:

regular or special meeting with his recommendations for the holding of tests to establish an employment list If necessary to prevent the stoppage of public business but not otherwise the Chief Examiner and Secretary may authorize the filling of the position at once through a provisional appointment as provided in this Act

Section 32 Selection and Appointment of certified Eligibles Unless it is found to be in the interest of the public service not to fill the vacant position the appointing authority shall within a reasonable time to be fixed by the rules of the Commission and in no case to exceed ten days appoint the person whose name has been certified from the re-employment list and in case there is no re-employment list the appointing authority shall with sole reference to the relative merit and fitness of the candidates make an appointment from the two names so certified from the employment list provided that the date at which the new appointee is to begin work may be later than ten days following the date of certification After any name has been twice rejected by any one appointing authority for the same or a similar position in favor of others on the same eligible list said name shall not again be certified to that appointing authority In case an employment list consists of less than two names the appointing authority may at his option expressed in writing to the Commission at the time of appointment treat such appointment as provisional

Appointing authorities shall promptly report to the Commission the selection and appointment of eligibles whose names have been certified If an eligible whose name has been certified shall refuse to accept on appointment offered him such refusal shall be promptly invested by the Chief Examiner and Secretary and if it be found that the refusal has been made for improper or insufficient reasons the Chief Examiner and Secretary may remove his name from the employment or re-employment list

Section 33 Provisional Appointments In case a vacancy of a permanent position in the classified service is to be filled and no person whose name is on the re-employment list or employment list for the class is willing to accept appointment or there is no employment or re-employment list for the class the Chief Examiner and Secretary may if necessary to prevent the stoppage of public business but not otherwise the provisional appointment of a qualified person with or without holding of any test provided that in all such cases the provisional appointee shall before beginning work fill out and forward to the Commission an application form and provided further that such provisional appointment shall be pending the establishment of a re-employment or employment list only and after this act has been in operation for one year for a period not exceeding a total of sixty days

Section 34 Temporary Appointment to Extra Positions When from pressure of work an extra position in the classified service must be established for a period of less than six months the appointing authority shall request the Commission in writing to certify the names of a qualified person In such request the appointing authority shall state the cause of the extra work the probable length of employment and unless the position has been classified the duties the appointee is to perform The Chief Examiner shall thereupon authorize the appointment with or without competitive tests of a qualified person provided however that as far as practicable temporary appointments to extra positions shall be made following certification from re-employment and employment lists and provided further that no such appointment shall be authorized for a period exceeding ninety days or renewed more than once within any calendar or fiscal year

Section 35 Emergency Appointments Any appointing authority or any subordinate authorized by him may to prevent the stoppage of the public business when an emergency arises and time will not permit of securing the authorization from the Chief Examiner and Secretary of the appointment of a certified eligible appoint any qualified person during the emergency for a period not exceeding ten days provided that a vacancy in a position of which the appointing authority has had reasonable notice or that employment conditions of which the appointing authority had previous knowledge or of which by the exercise of due diligence he might have had previous knowledge shall not be considered an emergency Persons thus appointed shall be known as emergency employes Appointing authorities shall forthwith report to the Commission all emergency appointments and such appointments shall not be renewed

Section 36 Probation Period To enable the appointing authority to exercise a choice in the selective process involved in the filling of positions no appointment to a position in the classified service whether made from a reemployment list or an original entrance or promotion employment list shall be deemed complete until after the expiration of a probation period to be prescribed in the rules of the Commission provided that the probation period shall in no case be less than three months nor more than six months and provided further that the Commission may provide probation periods of different lengths for the various classes of positions At any time during the probation period any appointing authority may remove any employee from the position held by him if in his opinon the test provided by observation of his work during the test period thus afforded shows the employee to be unable or unwilling to perform his duties in a satisfactory manner The Commission may require from any appointing authority at any time during the probation period a report showing whether any employee on probation has shown the degree of efficiency which may reasonably be demanded if he is to continue in the classified service

Section 37 Status of Employees Holding Positions when Act takes Effect Any person holding a position in the classified service at the time this act takes effect shall become a classified employee without tests and without serving a probation period and shall thereafter be subject in all respects to the provisions of this act

ARTICLE VII

The Regulation of Employees in the Classified Service

Section 38 Service Standards and Ratings The Commission shall as soon as practicable after this Act takes effect establish standards of performance and a uniform system of service ratings for each class of positions or for groups of classes Such standards of performance shall as far as practicable be based upon actual output including quantity and quality of work done and upon conduct and attendance Such standards of performance shall set forth the degree of efficiency which shall constitute ground for

(a) Increase in the rate of compensation for employees who have not attained the maximum rate for the class to which their positions are allocated

(b) Continuance at the existing rate of compensation without increase or decrease

(c) Decrease in the rate of compensation for employees who at the time are above the minimum rate for the class to which their positions are allocated and

(d) Demotion or removal

The Commission upon the establishment of standards of performance for any class or group of classes shall also provide for the rating according to a numerical percentage normal distribution or other plan of the service of each employee or of groups of employees by the appointing authorities in the various departments and institutions and for such report to review and revision by the Commission of the ratings as may in its judgment be necessary or desirable provided that reports of service ratings for any employee or group of employees shall not be required of any appointing authority without his consent oftener than once in three months Any employee shall have the right at reasonable times during business hours to inspect his service ratings and the service ratings of other employees in the same class as shown by the records of the Commission or of the Department or institution in which he is employed

Section 39 Transfers The Commission shall by rule provide for the transfer of employees provided that no employee shall be transferred from a position in one department or institution without the consent of the appointing authority of the department or institution from which he is transferred and provided further that the transfer of an employee from a position in one class to a position in a different class for which a higher maximum rate or compensation is prescribed shall be considered a promotion and shall be made only after test and certification as provided in this Act

Section 40 Demotions The transfer of an employee from a position in one class to a position in a different class for which a lower maximum rate of compensation is prescribed and involving a reduction in compensation shall be considered a demotion and may be made upon the recommendation of the appointing authority or the petition of the employee supported by such evidence as the Chief Examiner and Secretary may require to show that the employee is not performing satisfactory service in the position he is holding but is able to perform the duties of the class of positions to which it is recommended or petitioner that he be demoted The compensation of an employee demoted shall in no case exceed the maximum rate for the class to which he is demoted

Section 41 Annual Sick and Special Leave The Commission shall by rule approved by the Governor provide for the granting of annual sick and special leave of absence to employees without or with pay or with reduced pay provided that the total leave with pay in any one calendar year shall not exceed thirty days except for disability incurred in the performance of duty No employee shall be granted leave of absence except under such rules

The SPEAKER. The newspapermen are holding a dinner at the Penn-Harris tonight, and they request that we dispatch our business so that we may adjourn today at 4 P. M. to give them an opportunity to finish their work and to make the necessary preparations incidental to the dinner.

If there are no objections on the part of the membership, it is the opinion of the Chair that we should work until one thirty, declare a recess for one hour, reconvene at two thirty P. M. and work until four P. M. That will be the procedure if there are no objections on the part of the House.

After a conference at the desk with some of the committee chairmen it has been suggested that we work through until two o'clork and that we then declare a recess for one hour, reconvene at three o'clock and work until four o'clock.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1783, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws, one hundred twenty-two), entitled "An act to authorize the Superintendent of Public Instruction to fix and to collect reasonable fees for certain services rendered by that Department" by authorizing the Department of Public Instruction to collect a fee for issuing certificates to teachers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I do not desire to be understood as opposing the most commendable work that was performed by the committee of this House, but I feel in justice to my constitutents I must arise to oppose this bill.

Just a few days ago we made it possible for the teachers to have their salaries cut either ten per cent or lower and now we come back and ask to take more from the teachers by requiring them to pay for the services which the State forces them to get and I believe in justice to the teachers we ought to vote this bill down.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1787, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 1201 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred fifty-nine) entitled, "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto;" by making the moneys in the Game Fund available for the reimbursement of the General Fund for certain services rendered or supplied by certain departments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides for the transfer of certain monies in the Game Fund to the General Fund. I think that that would be entirely improper and believe that this bill should be defeated.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not on my file.

The SPEAKER. Inasmuch as this bill is not on file it will be passed over for the present.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2061, entitled

An Act providing for the transfer of the State Nursery at Milton from the Department of Highways to the Department of Forests and Waters

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1850, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by prohibiting the issuance of certain registration plates unless applier for on a form prescribed and furnished by the department and accompanied by an extra fee

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar. I have spoken to the sponsor of the bill about this action.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1033, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven hundred twenty-two, of the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts, and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporaetd towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," as amended, exempting certain veterans' organizations from payment of fees for registration and certificates of titles of motor vehicles owned and used by them.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar until tomorrow.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor of this bill would like to ascertain from the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, for what purpose he desires the bill postponed.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will. I think I will have a very satisfactory amendment which I will suggest to the sponsor and which I think he will approve; it will be ready tomorrow.

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor of the bill will stand for that in view of his experience with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, on the liquor control bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1662, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 14 of an act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws, two hundred eight-six), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety and welfare of minors; by forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hours of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment, attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, in certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted, providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" by requiring minors or their parents or guardians to pay to physicians a fee not in excess of one dollar ($1.00) for physical examinations made in connection with certificates of physical fitness required by the act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask to have the sponsor of this bill explain it to us.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, explain the provisions of this bill.

Mr. PHILLIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under existing law the fee paid to physicians for the examination of minors as to their physical fitness for industrial employment under the employment laws are paid by the counties to physicians. In order to relieve the counties of that burden and expense, it was the feeling of the committee that that fee should be paid by the parents of the minor child.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I quesiton the wisdom of this legislation at this time. I don't believe that we should add any additional burden on people who we know in many instances are unable to pay the fee and for that reason I think I will have to be opposed to this bill.

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask if this bill were enacted into law, would it require the school child who is examined to pay the fee stipulated in the bill?

Mr. PHILLIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under this bill it would require either the minor or the parents of the minor to pay the fee, limited to one dollar.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as the majority of the school children today are children of the working classes of people who have no employment, I believe that the passage of this bill at this time would add to the burdens of the parents. While I can recognize that it would take care of some of the financial obligations of the counties, I don't believe the parents of the majority of the school children today are in a position to meet this obligation.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1669, entitled:

An Act to amend sections 3 and 4 of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 110) entitled "An act for the assignment of judges to districts other than their own for the purpose of expediting business with provision for their compensation" by further regulating the assignment of judges to districts other than their own and requiring such judges to itemize their expenses in reports filed with the Auditor General

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain the bill to the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, explain the bill to the House.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. I will, Mr. Speaker. Under the existing laws, the committee in its profound study of the traveling judges situation in Pennsylvania discovered that in innumerable instances judges accepted assignments to serve outside of the districts to which they are elected, and in the districts to which they were elected, and while so serving in the district and to which they were called, it became necessary for the district in which the judge was elected to invite traveling judges to sit in that district. It therefore was the conclusion of the committee that before a judge should accept or be permitted to accept an invitation to serve in a judicial district other than the one in which he was elected he should certify either that all of the work committed to him for performance in the district to which he was elected had been completed or at least should certify that the accepting of a commission to serve outside of his district would not result in the necessity that the district bring into it a traveling judge.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, judges from the country have been very valuable in Philadelphia and have caused a large saving of hundreds and thousands of dollars.

It would seem to me as if the present bill which is before us would interfere with the custom long established and I think that the things that were wrong were merely trifling matters. A judge might have gone from one district to another and have been detained two or three weeks, and while he was away it was necessary to hold court in his district for a day. Take Judge Fineletter who went to some western county to try some cases and they lasted two or three weeks. In that case somebody may have substituted for him two or three days while he was away. I would ask you to vote no on this bill. Our present system works well and saves money.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no doubt that the system works well from the standpoint of the gentleman from Philadelphia. We have grown a little tired in the rural districts of having four judges in counties that are not properly entitled to two and then having three judges outside of the county while our calendars are crowded. We have grown a little tired of paying a judge twelve thousand dollars to sit in the county and then have the gentleman and his colleagues from Philadelphia draw on the State Treasury for five thousand more to get him to try cases because for some reason the Philadelphia judges don't want to try them. The same rule holds in Pittsburgh. They have cases that for reasons best known to themselves in Allegheny County and Philadelphia County they don't want their judges to hear, so they get a judge from the sticks and we pay the cost in delayed justice in our own county.

I have been amazed that the judiciary were not more mindful of their own dignity. The time has come that if these judges are to continue to be addicted to the gypsy habit, then the legislature should correct that, so that no judge be allowed to go outside of his own county until his own calendar is clear. The gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of this bill is one hundred per cent correct.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, before we vote on this measure, I feel that the House is entitled to additional information on the subject. Since 1921, the traveling judge system has cost this Commonwealth eight hundred and thirty-eight thousand odd dollars. In the nineteen month period from June 1, 1931 to December 31, 1932, the traveling judge system has cost this Commonwealth one hundred fifty-three thousand odd dollars in addition to the salaries paid the judges in the judicial districts to which they are elected. In other words, I mean to say that one hundred and fifty-three thousand dollars was paid to the traveling judges to their ordinary statutory compensation. The expenditure was for four thousand three hundred and thirteen days spent in two hundred and eighty-three outside districts at thirty dollars per day.

Now, in further explanation of what I superficially referred to when I first spoke to you on this bill I would like very much to have you indulge me for a few moments while I give you an illustration or a number of illustrations which in my opinion justifies the passage of this measure.

Judge A's district is in the western part of the State. His salary is twelve thousand dolars a year. He served one hundred and twenty-two days in six different districts. In nineteen months this netted him three thousand six hundred and sixty dollars additional at thirty dollars per day. His expense account was six hundred and eighty-nine dollars and fifty-eight cents. The total amount received by Judge A from the State was twenty-three thousand three hundred forty-nine dollars and fifty-eight cents. Had Judge A completed all of the work in his own district little could be said, but during this time other judges served fifty-seven days in Judge A's district, also at thirty dollars per day.

Another illustration: Judge B is from the western part of the State. His salary is nine thousand dollars per year. He served one hundred and thirty-nine days in seven outside districts at thirty dollars per day, and outside judges served twenty-two days in his district. In nineteen months Judge B received, including his traveling expenses, eighteen thousand nine hundred forty-nine dollars and twenty-eight cents.

Judge C is from the central part of the Commonwealth. He served one hundred and ten days at thirty dollars per day in ten outside districts, while outside judges served in his district twenty-three days. In nineteen months he received twenty-three thousand three hundred thirty-two dollars and sixty-six cents.

Judge D is from the eastern part of the Commonwealth. His salary is nine thousand dollars a year. While Judge D was serving in ten outside districts for which he received five thousand and forty-four dollars, other judges were serving twenty days in his district.

Now, here is a significant case. Judge E. served three hundred days in two outside district in nineteen months. This meant that he was away from home more than he was at home, and in that particular case no judge came into the district, indicating very clearly to the committee that this judicial district hardly cannot require the services of even one judge.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe the traveling judges under our present judicial system are probably indispensably necessary. I believe that until the forces that have it within their command to revise our judicial system so that we, like the State of New York, will have a State-wide Court with judges assignable to any place where their services may be necessary, we must have the auxiliary services of the traveling judge, but I say to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that it falls the duty of this Legislature to correct the evils that have crept into the system, that this bill seeks to accomplish at least in part, for these reasons, Whatever else may be said on the other side of the question, I am of the opinion that this bill commands your affirmative vote.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot sit idly by and permit the insinuations and the inuendoes or the direct statement made by the gentleman from Cambria with respect to the Philadelphia judges. I am frank to say that I did not hear the particular remarks of the gentleman, but if I am correctly advised as to what was said, it indicated that the judges in Philadelphia, desiring to disregard their duty or to avoid responsibility called in these traveling judges. If that statement is a correct statement, then I say to the gentleman from Cambria and to the members of this House that it is the most inaccurate statement that was ever made on the floor of the House.

If the gentleman from Cambria did not so state, then, of course, my remarks are improper.

We have in Philadelphia fifteen Common Pleas Court judges in addition to the Orphans' Court. I know of no group of judges who work harder, who are more conscientious in the performance of their duties, than those judges. In Philadelphia we require a great many more judges than we have. There have been introduced in this Legislature in almost every session in recent years, bills for additional judges in Philadelphia. I know of no more conscientious group of men who work daily and who work harder and who never shirk their duty. I know of no judge, and there is no man or woman who is a lawyer in the city of Philadelphia who would tell you that there has ever been the shirking of a single responsibility by a single judge in Philadelphia.

Where a criticism is directed against the judiciary in any State or city, whether it be the district in your county or mine, it ought to be backed up by facts, and if there are not facts at hand to back it up, the statement ought not to have been made, because if we in the Legislature attack the courts of the Commonwealth, we are seeking to destroy the bulwark of our community and of our country, and I say that no man should get up before this House without definite proof and attack the judiciary of any judicial district, whether it be in your county or in mine, and I as a member of the Philadelphia County Bar and as a member of this Legislature resent the improper and inaccurate statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just one word with respect to this bill. While it is true that the traveling judges have cost a great deal of money, members of the House, remember this; that if you didn't have them in order to complete the work in various counties, you would have to have additional judges, additional tipstaves, additional official stenographers, and additional costs, and while I don't know the figures, I doubt very much whether the additional judges that would be required would be any less expensive than the present judges we have, and I therefore ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the very vociferous gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say this. I must take the word of a judge, and while I was over home one afternoon I inquired of a judge as to why he was going to Philadelphia, and the judge told me that he was going down to Philadelphia to handle some cases he thought they didn't want to handle down there, and I have to believe the judge.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the figures given to you by my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, were so arranged that you would draw an inference from them that the Commonwealth if it did not have the traveling judges would save money. Now, I submit to you that that inference is incorrect. He said that last year it cost eight hundred thousand dollars for traveling judges, with the further inference that that was money wasted. I submit to you that if you did not have traveling judges, the expenses on the State Treasury would have been easily four times eight hundred thousand dollars. Now, this is the reason.

You have in a year three hundred and sixty-five days; you have fifty-two Sundays; you have fifty-two Saturdays; you have a lot of holidays, and you have then a lot of days that judges are ill, and if you figure it out, you will find that the judge in Philadelphia gets approximately one hundred dollars a day. The traveling judge comes to Philadelphia and gets thirty dollars a day. If the traveling judge did not come to Philadelphia, we would have to have in Philadelphia at least six to nine more judges. The State Treasury pays the judges' salaries; would you rather have the traveling judges come down there at an expense on the State Treasury of about thirty dollars a day, or would you rather give us six or nine more judges at an expense of one hundred dollars a day, plus the expense of other court-rooms, plus the expense of other tipstaves, plus the expense of more stenographers, plus the expense of other facilities? All of these things would be tacked onto the expense of the State Treasury, and while my friend's figures are so arranged to bring the inference that it saves money, I submit to you on the contrary, if the system he indicates ought to be corrected were change, that then the State Treasury would be burdened more than five times as heavy as it is now.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am very certain that my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers is not attempting by subterfuge to confuse your minds. I am very certain of that.

There is only one question involved in this case. It is this; may a judge be called out of his district to serve in another district if he has work to do at home? That is the only question involved. This bill has no reference to compensation The bill before you simply provides this; before a judge can accept a commission or assignment to serve out of the district to which he is elected he must do one of two things; he must certify that either all the work in his district is completed or that it is in such shape, that while he is away it will not be necessary for the district to call in a judge to do his work.

Now, I submit to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if you have work to do at home and someone calls you to a distant point to do some work, if the work at home is more important than that which may be necessary to be done abroad, what is the natural thing for you to say? The natural thing for you to say is, "I am sorry, but I have work to do at home, and I cannot accept the job you offer me elsewhere." There is nothing else in this bill except the latter question I presented to you.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Is it not a fact if this bill were enacted into law that if a judge had completed all the work save writing one or two opinions in a case or two that he would not be eligible to sit in another district.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. No, Mr. Speaker, if Mr. WITKIN, will carefully read the language on page 2, he will see that subjunctive preposition "or" appears in line number 18, which provides that that judge need do but one of two things; certify either that his work is completed or that it will not be necessary for him to call a substitute judge into his district.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that a meeting of the Bituminous Region members of the House and Senate and others will be held this afternoon in the House Caucus room at 5.00 o'clock. It was originally arranged that the meeting be held in Room No. 1, North Office Building, but that has been changed to the House Caucus Room at 5.00 P. M. Senator H. J. Bell will preside and Dr. Clyde L. King will speak.

His Excellency the Governor has requested the Chair to announce to the members of the House that they are invited to the Executive Mansion on the evening of Monday April 10, 1933, to an informal dinner. The wives of the members will not be invited, and dress will be informal. Invitations will be sent to the members' homes. Acceptances should be sent in as soon as possible.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess until 3 P. M. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and (at 2.22 P. M.) declares a recess until 3.00 P. M.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 3.00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1787, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section one thousand two hundred one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred fifty-nine) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild aminals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by making the moneys in the Game Fund available for the reimbursement of the General Fund for certain services rendered or supplied by certain departments

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, the passage of this bill will cost the sportsmen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a sum equal to thirty-four thousand dollars for the next biennium. It has been recognized in the previous administrations that the Game Department has been a very valuable asset to the State of Pennsylvania The Sportsmen annually, it is conservatively estimated, spend in the neighborhood of sixteen million dollars in the State of Pennsylvania. They employ a great many people who otherwise would not receive employment at a time like this. They pay annually in counties that amount to over one hundred and twenty thousand dollars. The fur taken in the State of Pennsylvania is estimated to be worth two million dollars each year. I know of no department in Harrisburg that has given more employment to the people in the outlying districts than does the Game Department. During the next biennium our license fees and other income will be very materially cut, and therefore I ask you to vote no on this bill and help the Game Department to maintain itself with this additional thirty-four thousand dollars, which this bill tries to take away from us.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my friend from Montgomery County, Mr. Ederer, said that it would cost the sportsmen of Pennsylvania something slightly in excess of thirty thousand dollars. I submit to you if you don't pass this bill, it will cost the general fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania an equal amount.

There were five bills on this calendar yesterday or today which stood for the proposition that in these instances where funds are maintained which do not benefit the general fund, these funds should bear the expenses of their vary existence. The five bills referred to are as follows: one dealing with the Workmen's Insurance Fund, one dealing with the Motor Vehicle Fund, one dealing with the Banking Department, one dealing with the Fish Commission and the other with the Game Commission.

Now, the House in its wisdom has subscribed to the principle involved in these five bills and singularly has done it by approving the principle in three out of five of the bills. I ask the members of this House, how can you consistently subscribe to the principle involved so far as concerns three bills out of five, and not apply the principle to the two remaining bills. You defeated the principle as it applies to the Fish Commission. I am told that some of the gentlemen who voted against it have now recognized the unfairness of the defeat of that measure. Like true sportsmen they recognize that the maintenance of the Fish Commission's activities ought not to be saddled on the General Fund of the Commonwealth. The Commonwealth has said that the money contributed by the sportsment to the Fish Fund belongs to the fish and the fishermen. It does not follow logically that the Commonwealth should be the benefactor to that fund by making the audits free of cost, by having the State Treasury employing people to make disbursement against the fund, and by providing the Commission with rent, light, heat and power. This bill merely provides that the fund made up by the fishermen and sportsmen of the Commonwealth should bear its own expenses, and I daresay if that principle were understood by the sportsmen of the Commonwealth that they would be true to tradition and say, "Amen," and approve the bill. This is precisely what you should do with it.

Mr. BERNHARDT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I merely arise to say in my opinion that it would not be fair to the Game Commission when you defeated a similar bill of the Fish Commission yesterday to pass this bill, so I am going to ask you to go along in the same manner as you did with the other.

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you may be interested to know a little more about what the sportsmen's money has paid in the interest of not only the sportsmen, but in the interest of the people of Pennsylvania generally as compared with what my good friend from Philadelphia has said relative to what this department costs, and what we ought to pay for it. In 1897 this State appropriated to the Game Department eight hundred dollars for that biennium. That was scarcely more than enough to pay the postage of the department. In 1889, the following biennium, they appropriated the same amount, eight hundred dollars. In 1901 they appropriated three thousand dollars. In 1903 they appropriated twelve thousand dollars. In 1905 they appropriated twenty thousand dollars. In 1907 they appropriated forty thousand dollars. In 1909 they appropriated sixty thousand dollars. In 1911 they appropriated fifty-five thousand two hundred dollars. In 1913 they appropriated ninety-seven thousand four hundred dollars from the General Fund to the Game Department, and in 1913 the Resident Hunters License Act was passed, and from that time on, ladies and gentlemen of this House, the sportsmen have been paying their own way, and not one dollar has come from the General Fund.

Now, what has the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the poeple of the State received for what it is now costing the sportsmen; let us see. At the present time it is my information that from the hunters license fees, seventy-five cents of each two dollars of license paid goes to the purchase of land. More than that, and as a result of that fund, the State has purchased three hundred and fifty thousand acres of land that is not only used for sportsmen, but is being used by the people generally. There are more people that have the privilege and get the recreational benefit of that land paid for and bought and maintaining and policed by the sportsmen than there are men who are paying the license and paying the bill, and I say it is not fair when the sportsmen of the Commonwealth are paying for that amount of land and the maintenance of it, and which is used by the people generally, children as well as grown-ups, it is not fair to have a bill introduced in this House to take care of the light and the janitor, gasoline, and so on, for its offices down here at the expense of the sportsmen. I say it is not fair to the sportsmen, and if we do that, gentlemen, it is my belief that we will have a great line of protest from all of the sportsmen of this Commonwealth. I call your attention to what the sportsmen have done, not only in the interest of the farmer, but in the interest of developing of the forestry in this State through their policing of these mountain lands, and all that, and ladies and gentlemen, I hope you will vote down this bill.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1315 (Senate Bill No. 65), from page 35 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Woodside,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1315 (Senate Bill No. 65), entitled:

An Act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I am not going to take your time to make a speech, but I wish just to call your attention to just what this bill is. In 1929 this Legislature authorized the appointment of a commission to revise the laws relative to townships. This commission made its report to the Session of 1931, and the Township Code for second class townships was enacted by the House. After this was passed by the House and Senate and various amendments had been added to it, the result was that because of these amendments it was vetoed by the Governor. In this Session the bill as originally prepared by this commission, according to their report made to the Session of 1931, was again introduced in the Senate and is this bill. It passed the Senate without amendment, but a few amendments have been added to it in the House. These amendments have been very carefully considered along with the act as a whole by the sub-committee of the Committee on Boroughs and Townships, as well as by the Committee on Boroughs and Townships. The bill has been gone over very carefully by the supervisors and the Supervisors Association and their representatives, and by a number of members of this House, and I think it should be passed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Amend page 4, by adding after line 11, the following sections:

"Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final passage."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. For tomorrow, Thursday, the calendar will be particularly heavy. The Chair, therefore, requests that the members if possible remain for the session tomorrow in order that we may clean up the calendar as nearly as possible.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. LAUBACH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4.40 P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1933 — 130th of the General Assembly

Vol. 15 — HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1933. — No. 44

SENATE

THURSDAY, April 6, 1933

The Senate met at 9.30 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty Father, we thank Thee for another day. Help us to do something this day which will help others and help ourselves, and help us to realize more and more as time goes on what has made the greatness, not only of the Anglo-Saxon race, but of this Nation and of this State. It is not legislation, or the mechanical progress we have made. It is the home. We neglect the one thing which has made us. Bless the Senators and all the officers here as they go back to their homes this week, and may they realize that there is an institution greater than all the institutions of government in the world, the institution we are all neglecting, the home. Make us get back to an appreciation of it, and bless our homes. We ask in Thy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HOWELL, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Every such sale of real property shall be confirmed by the court if all the terms and conditions of its order authorizing such sale have been complied with

B When any real property of an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver is situated in a county other than the one in which the institution is located the Secretary shall proceed in the same manner as is provided by this section for the sale of real property within the county In addition he shall petition the court of common pleas of the county in which the real property is located and it shall be the duty of such court to issue an order authorizing the sale upon the terms or conditions prescribed by the order of the court having jurisdiction of the receivership The Secretary shall file a return of the sale in the court of common pleas in the county in which the real estate is located which court if all the terms and conditions of the order of the court in which the certificate of possession is filed have been met shall confirm the sale and shall give the Secretary a certified copy of the return of the sale and a certified copy of the confirmation thereof Such certified copies shall be filed with the prothonotary of the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

Section 719 Effect of Sale upon Liens The sale by the Secretary of any real property of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver shall not affect any lien thereon except that in the case of a lien which would under the laws of the Commonwealth ordinarily be discharged by a judicial sale the court in its order authorizing the sale may prescribe that such lien shall be discharged by the sale Whenever such liens are to be discharged by a sale the Secretary shall give notice of the sale to all creditors who appear by the books of the institution or by records of the county or otherwise to have or to claim to have liens upon such property The proceeds of the sale shall then take the place of the property sold and shall be distributed in the order prescribed by and to the parties entitled to take under the laws of the Commonwealth which relate to the discharge of liens by a judicial sale

B If real property is situated in a county other than that in which the institution is located the court in which the certificate of possession is filed shall be the one empowered to issue the original order prescribing the discharge of liens The procedure shall be the same as in the case of any other terms or conditions prescribed in its order for the sale of real property situated in another county

Section 720 Leases for Property The Secretary may without order of court enter into leases for real or personal property belonging to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver for a period not to exceed one year He may with leave of court enter into such leases for a period not to exceed ten years upon the terms and under the conditions prescribed by the order of the court

The court shall not require advertisement or notice of leases entered into upon its order except where special circumstances shall appear to require such action in order to protect the interests of the estate

Section 721 Sale or Exchange of Listed and Unlisted Securities A The Secretary may without leave of court sell on any stock exchange or otherwise at a price not below that prevailing on any of the stock exchanges listed securities which belong to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver or which such institution has the power to sell

B The Secretary may with leave of court sell unlisted securities or sell listed securities at a price below the prevailing prices on any of the stock exchanges upon such terms and under such conditions as the court shall prescribe

C The Secretary may with leave of court exchange listed or unlisted securities for other obligations of the corporation issuing the securities upon such terms and under such conditions as the court shall prescribe

Section 722 Deposit of Moneys by Secretary All moneys received by the Secretary as receiver of an institution shall be deposited by him with one or more corporations or persons authorized by law to receive deposits and subject to the supervision either of Federal or State banking authorities He shall require of such depository security therefor in such amount and of such nature as the Secretary shall deem adequate

Section 723 Enforcement of Shareholders' Liability A If at any time after he takes possession of a corporation as receiver it shall appear to the Secretary that the assets of such corporation will be insufficient to pay in full its debts to depositors and other creditors he shall as soon as expedient estimate the amount which shall be assessed against all shareholders who are under these circumstances personally liable for any part of the debts of such corporation by reason of their ownership of such shares He shall assess against such shareholders the amount which he then deems necessary for the payment of such debts not however exceeding the maximum liability of such shareholders as provided by law The Secretary shall send to every such shareholder by registered mail to the address which appears on the records of the corporation and if none appears there then to his last known address a demand that the amount assessed against him be paid Such demand shall state the total amount assessed by the Secretary against all the shareholders and the specific amount to be paid by the particular shareholder It shall also designate a period within such assessment shall be paid such period to be not less than thirty days after the date of the sending of the notice If any shareholders shall not pay the amount assessed against them the Secretary may institute actions at law or in equity against them either severally or jointly for the amount of such assessment together with interest from the date designated in the notice from the Secretary for the payment of such assessment In such action the written statement of the Secretary signed by him in his official capacity as receiver and bearing the seal of the Department asserting that the assets of the corporation appear insufficient to meet its liabilities to depositors and other creditors that consequently he has made an assessment against the shareholder or shareholders being sued that the period designated for the payment of the assessment has expired and that the value of the assets of the corporation and the liabilities of such corporations are as set forth shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated

B The Secretary may make as many partial assessments as shall appear expedient until the total liability of the shareholders or the total amount necessary to pay in full the depositors and other creditors of the corporation has been assessed

Section 724 Property in Safe Deposit Vault or Held for Safe-Keeping The Secretary may any time after taking possesison of an institution as receiver give written notice to anyone claiming or appearing on the books of such institution to be the owner or to be entitled to the possession of any personal property left with such institution as bailee for safe-keeping or depository for hire and to anyone appearing on the books of the institution to be the lessee of any safe vault deposit box notifying such bailor or lessee respectively to remove all such personal property within the period fixed by the notice provided that such period shall in no case be less than sixty days after the date of the notice

At the expiration of such period if the lessee of a safe vault or safe deposit box has not removed the contents thereof the Secretary may cause such safe vault or safe deposit box to be opened either in his presence or in the presence of the deputy receiver of the institution and in the presence of a notary public not an officer or employe of the institution or of the Department The contents if any of such safe vault or safe deposit box shall then be sealed and marked by such notary with the name and address of the lessee in whose name such safe vault or safe deposit box appeared on the books of the institution and with a list and description of the property therein Such package so sealed and addressed shall either be removed by the Secretary to his office in Harrisburg or it shall be deposited by him in one of the bank safes or safe deposit boxes of the institution to be removed from such safe or safe deposit box when the Secretary surrenders possession of or finally liquidates the institution or when he sells leases or otherwise disposes of the building The Secretary shall retain such property until it is delivered to the owner or is otherwise disposed of in accordance with law

The Secretary shall follow the same procedure and have the same powers with regard to the property left with the institution as bailee for safe-keeping or depository for hire and not called for within the period specified by the notice

The contract of bailment or lease if any shall be considered at an end upon the date designated by the Secretary for the removal of the property therein The amount of unearned rent or charges if any paid by the bailor or lessee shall become a debt of the institution

ARTICLE VIII
SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF TRUST DEPARTMENT

Section 801 Institution as Fiduciary References in this act to funds property or investments held in a fiduciary capacity by an institution of which the Secretary has taken possession shall have no application to funds property or investments of which such institution became trustee involuntarily and by operation of law

Section 802 Secretary in Possession of Trust Department A The Secretary upon taking possession of an institution as receiver shall keep all the funds property and investments if any which are held by such institution i.. a fiduciary capacity separate from the assets of the institution itself

B The Secretary when in possession of an institution as receiver shall have all the rights powers and duties which such institution had in its fiduciary capacity He shall have title to all the assets including debts due liens and other security therefor and all rights of action or redemption of all estates of which the institution either alone or jointly with someone else was trustee executor administrator guardian assignee or other similar fiduciary and shall have the power to administer such estates In pursuance of this power the Secretary may institute any action at law or in equity or execute and sign any written instruments which the institution itself could have instituted executed or signed

The Secretary shall not however have the power to invest funds or property of any such estate except where it shall appear necessary to purchase any real or personal property or any interest therein in order to protect an equity which such estate has in such property Such purchase by the Secretary shall not however be made without the approval of any corporation or person whose approval would have been necessary to such purchase by the institution prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary and of the court which has exercised jurisdiction over such estate If no court has yet exercised jurisdiction over the estate then the approval either of the court of common pleas or of the orphan's court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated shall be procured

Except where otherwise specifically provided references in this act to the court which has exercised jurisdiction over an estate of which an institution in possession of the Secretary was fiduciary shall be construed to refer in cases in which the institution was executor or administrator to the orphans' court of the county of which the register of wills issued the letters testamentary or letters of administration respectively and in all other cases to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court in which an account of the estate has been filed or which has in any manner exercised control or supervision over the administration of such estate by the institution as fiduciary

Section 803 Disputes as to Identity of Trust Funds All disputes as to the identity of the funds property or investments of an estate of which an institution in the possession of the Secretary was fiduciary arising either because such funds property or investments have become or are alleged to have become mingled with other funds property or investments or for any other reason shall be determined by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed Such court shall have exclusive jurisidiction over such disputes

Section 804 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciaries Upon filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution the Secretary shall forthwith give written notice in so far as the giving of such notice is practicable to all parties of whom he has notice who are interested in any funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity Such notice shall require such parties within thirty days after the giving of notice to apply for the appointment of substituted fiduciaries Such application shall be made as follows In any case in which the institution was executor or administrator application shall be made to the register of wills having jurisdiction to grant new letters in such form as the case shall require in any other case application shall be made to any court which has exercised jurisdiction over the estate or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business However if the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established provides a particular method for the selection of fiduciaries such method shall be followed

If the parties to whom such notice has been given do not within the thiry-day period designated make such application or pursue whatever method is prescribed by the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary or if it is impracticable to give notice to the parties interested in the estate then he Secretary shall make the application for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary to the court or the register of wills whichever the case may be designated above Such court or register of wills shall appoint a substituted fiduciary upon such petition of the Secretary

Section 805 Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary without Filing Account If a substituted fiduciary has been appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act and if there is no dispute as to the amount or identity of the funds property or investments of the particular estate and as to the fees commissions and expenses due either to the institution before the Secretary took possession or to the Secretary as receiver since the taking of possession and if all the parties in interest being sui juris agree in writing to waive an accounting in court the Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver may transfer to such substituted fiduciary all the funds property and investments of the particular estate without filing an account in any court Upon such transfer he shall procure from all the parties in interest and from the substituted fiduciary a receipt and release in full which shall discharge the Secretary and the institution from any further duty or liability with reference to such estate

Section 806 Filing of Account Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary A Except in cases in which the Secretary is authorized by the provisions of this act to transfer to a substituted fiduciary without filing an account the funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary he shall file an account for every estate of which such institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall file each such account upon the date fixed by the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship or if there is no such date fixed then as soon as expedient after the filing of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution Such account shall be filed in the court which has exercised jurisdiction over the particular estate or if no court has yet exercised jurisdiction then in the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated The Secretary shall then transfer or pay to the substituted fiduciary appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act any funds property or investments in his possession which belong to such estate Such transfer or payment shall be made in accordance with the order of the court in which the account for such estate is filed The court in directing such transfer or payment may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge

B The court which has exercised jurisdiction over a particular estate of which the institution was fiduciary or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business may order the Secretary to transfer the funds property or investments of the estate to the substituted fiduciary even prior to the filing of an account The court in such order may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge or any other question which may arise upon the audit of the account

C This section shall not be construed to give any court other than the one in which the certificate of possession is filed jurisdiction over disputes involving the identity of funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 807 Deficiencies in Assets Held by Institution as Fiduciary Whenever the court in which the Secretry has filed the account of an estate of which an institution in his possession was fiduciary shall in the manner provided by law rule that there is a deficiency in the funds property or investments of such estate or that the institution is liable to surcharge in respect thereto the amount determined by such court to be due shall constitute a claim against the institution and shall be presented in the same manner as other claims except that it may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court Such order or decree of such court shall be conclusive as to the amount due except for the right of appeal provided by law Any dispute as to the classification or order of payment of such claim as distinguished from the amount shall be adjudicated by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

If the existence or amount of any such deficiency or surcharge or the liability of the institution therefor is in litigation but undetermined at the time dividends for claims having no priority in order of payment over such claims are being distributed the Secretary shall upon notice of such fact from the substituted fiduciary withhold and set apart a sufficient amount to pay the proportionate dividend which will be due upon such undetermined claim if it is finally adjudicated in favor of the estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 808 Compensation Due Institution and Secretary from Estates The Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver shall be entitled to collect such reasonable fees and commisions as were earned both as to income and as to principal and such reasonable expenses as were incurred by the institution in its capacity as fiduciary prior to the date on which possession was taken by the Secretary He shall also be entitled to reasonable fees and commissions both as to income and as to principal for any services performed and all reasonable expenses incurred by him on behalf of any estate of which the institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall be entitled to such commissions on principal as shall appear reasonable under all the circumstances whether or not the trust has terminated at the time of the filing of the account or of the transfer by the Secretary of the funds property and investments of the estate in accordance with the provisions of the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

Except in cases where the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this Code transfers funds property or investments of the estate without filing an account the court in which the Secretary shall file the account for the estate of which the institution was fiduciary shall award to the Secretary the fees commissions and expenses provided for in this section

ARTICLE IX

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF A MORTGAGE OR SECURITY POOL OR OF AN ASSET IN WHICH UNDIVIDED INTERESTS ARE HELD

Section 901 Mortgage and Security Pools and Participations Accounts Whenever the Secretary shall have filed a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver he shall as soon as it may be convenient file in the court in which the certificate of possession shall have been filed an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests shall have been created by the institution regardless of whether certificates of participation in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset shall have been actually issued by the institution and regardless of whether the relation of the institution to the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset is technically that of a trustee

A mortgage or securities pool shall be regarded as having been operated by the institution regardless of whether any or all of the mortgages securities or other assets in such pool shall be held in the name of the institution or in the name of a nominee of the institution Where undivided interests have been created in any mortgage security or other asset by any corporation or person holding such mortgage security or other asset as nominee of the institution such undivided interests shall be regarded as having been created by the institution

The prothonotary shall not be under any duty to recopy or otherwise record any such account filed by the Secretary He shall make no charge except the regular fee for filing such or similar papers

Section 902 Transfer of Pools and Participations without Filing an Account If all the corporations or persons who are the owners of all the undivided interests in any mortgage or securities pool or in any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests are sui juris and if they shall agree to the amount asserted by the Secretary to be due him as receiver for services rendered by the institution or by him and for expenses incurred by either and if they shall authorize the Secretary to transfer any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset to them or to a substituted fiduciary or any other corporation or person agreed upon by them and if they shall execute proper instruments releasing the Secretary and the institution from any further liability to them the Secretary may transfer to such substituted fiduciary or to such corporation or person without filing an account all the mortgages securities or other assets comprising such mortgage or securities pool or the mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests have been created In any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any undivided interest in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other investment and no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such estate the Secretary shall not transfer such mortgage or securities pool or such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution unless he shall also be authorized to make such transfer by all corporations or persons having an interest in the estate of which the institution was fiduciary except that where substituted fiduciaries have not been appointed for unborn beneficiaries of the estate or for other beneficiaries who are not sui juris the Secretary shall not be required to obtain such authority from anyone in behalf of such unborn beneficiaries or other persons who are not sui juris

Section 903 Notice of Filing Account A Upon filing an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which he is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the Secretary shall give notice thereof in so far as it may be practicable to all corporations or persons who are the owners of the undivided interests in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and in any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any such undivided interest then to all corporations or persons having an interest in such estate except that no such notice need be given to anyone on behalf of unborn beneficiaries who are not sui juris where no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such beneficiaries Such notice shall be given to the corporations or persons entitled thereto under this section at their addresses as they appear on the books or other records of the institution or if the address of any such corporation or person does not appear thereon then at the last known address of such corporation or person

B Such notice shall state the time and place of the audit of such account and except where an application for a substituted fiduciary shall have been made by any other method authorized by this act it shall also state the intention of the Secretary to apply for a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution and the time and place of any hearing upon such application which may be fixed by the court

Section 904 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciary Transfer of Pools or Participations upon Order of Court A After the filing by the Secretary of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the business and property of an institution but either before or after the filing of an account by him as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other assets in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the owner of any undivided interest in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset may file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created

If such petition shall not have been filed by the owner of any such undivided interest within thirty days after the notice by the Secretary of the filing of an account as to such mortgage or security pool or as to such mortgage security or other asset the Secretary shall file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution

Upon the filing of such a petition by the owner of any such undivided interest or by the Secretary for such mortgage or security pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution the court shall upon a day fixed by it conduct a hearing upon such application after which it shall appoint a substituted fiduciary

B The Secretary shall transfer to the substituted fiduciary appointed by the court all such mortgages securities or other assets comprising any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created which are in his possession as receiver and as to which he shall have filed an account The substituted fiduciary shall take such mortgages securities or other assets without liability for the nature or value of the mortgages securities or other assets as investments Such transfer shall be made in accordance with the order of the court and in directing such transfer the court may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge against the institution or the Secretary

The court may after petition filed pursuant to the provisions of this section order the Secretary to make such transfer even prior to filing an account in which case it may also reserve for future determination any question which may arise upon the audit of the account

Section 905 Advances by Secretary to Substituted Fiduciary Whenever the Secretary shall have filed an account as to any such mortgage or securities pool or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests and it shall appear to the court that any sum of cash will be needed by the substituted fiduciary for the protection of the owners of undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pools or in any such mortgage security or other asset as to which account shall have been filed and if it shall appear from the account that the Secretary does not have any cash held by him in connection with such mortgages or securities pool or in connection with any such mortgage security or other asset or if the account discloses that the cash in his hands for that purpose is sufficient for the protection of the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage or security or other asset or where no account is filed if the Secretary shall demonstrate these facts to the satisfaction of the court the court may upon petition of the Secretary and in the exercise of its discretion order the Secretary to advance to the substituted fiduciary out of the general assets of the institution such cash as may be necessary for the protection of the owners of such undivided interest such order shall provide that the amount of cash so advanced by the Secretary shall be repaid by the substituted fiduciary out of the first moneys realized by such substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities and other assets transferred to him

Section 906 Compensation and Expenses The court in its adjudication of any account filed by the Secretary as to any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests shall award to the Secretary such compensation for services rendered and expenses properly incurred by the institution or by the Secretary as the court shall deem reasonable and proper under all the circumstances The order of the court making any such award to the Secretary shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of any cash included in the account or if there be no cash in the account or if the amount of cash included therein is insufficient to pay the amount awarded to the Secretary the order shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of the first moneys realized by the substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities or other assets so transferred to such substituted fiduciary All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

When the court shall pursuant to the provisions of this act order the Secretary to transfer such mortgages securities or other assets prior to the filing of an account it shall similarly make provision for the payment of the compensation earned or the expenses incurred by the institution or by the Secretary

ARTICLE X

PROOF OF CLAIMS ACCOUNTING AND DISTRIBUTION

Section 1001 Notice to Depositors Shareholders and Other Creditors After filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he has taken possession as receiver the Secretary shall forthwith give notice of such fact to all corporations or persons who appear upon the books of the institution as or who are otherwise known to the Secretary to be or claim to be depositors or other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders of such institution He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

The notice to each depositor or in the case of a building and loan association to each shareholder shall state the amount which the books or other records of the institution show to be due to such depositor or shareholder It shall also state that unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time present to the Secretary for settlement his deposit or pass book or other evidence of his account showing a different amount to be due or unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time from the date of such notice prove in the manner provided by this act that a different amount is due the amount shown to be due by the books of the institution will be conclusively presumed to be correct unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The notice to each creditor other than a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association other than a shareholder shall inform such creditor that he must present his claim in the manner provided by this act within a specified time from the date of such notice or else be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The Secretary shall also advertise in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act the fact that he has determined to liquidate the affairs of the institution such advertisement shall state that all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders must prove their claims within a specified period or be bound by books or records of the institution to be due them and that any corporation or person not appearing upon the books of the institution to be a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association a shareholder and not presenting his pass book or other evidence of the state of his account or otherwise presenting his claim will be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time It shall also state that all creditors other than depositors or in the case of building and loan associations other than shareholders not proving their claims in the manner provided by this act and within a specified period will likewise be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution except where the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants to a creditor an extension of time

The Secretary shall forthwith file with the court under oath or affirmation a list of all corporations or persons to whom notice has been sent and the proofs of publication of the advertisements which he has inserted pursuant to the provisions of this act

The Secretary shall specify as the last day upon which depositors creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders can present their claims a date not less than one hundred twenty days after the taking of possession of the institution by him as receiver provided that such date shall be at least thirty days after the date of the sending of such notice However claims based upon deficiencies in or surcharges with respect to funds property or investments which such institution held in a fiduciary capacity may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate of which such funds property or investments were a part and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court

Section 1002 Proof of Claims of Depositors or in Building and Loan Associations Shareholders Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who disagrees with the amount shown by the books or other records of the institution to be due to him shall present his claims to the Secretary by presenting his deposit or pass books or other evidence of indebtednes sto the Secretary within the time and in the manner designated by the Secretary pursuant,to the provisions of this act Any such depositor or shareholder who shall not have received or shall have lost his deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness or who shall believe that the amount shown by such deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness due to him is incorrect shall within the time designated by the Secretary present his claim to the Secretary by whatever method he shall designate

Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who shall not present his claim within the designated time and in the manner provided by this section shall be bound by the amount appearing to be due to him upon the books or records of the institution or where the name of such depositor or shareholder does not appear at all upon the books or records of the institution or appears on such books or records but with no balance appearing to be due to him by the institution shall be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

This section shall not however be construed to deprive such depositor or shareholder of any right of action at law or in equity which he may have against an employe or former employe of the institution or upon the bond of such employe or former employe for any act committed by such employe which resulted in such depostor's or shareholder's not appearing upon the books of the institution or appearing upon them but being credited with an amount below that actually due

The Secretary shall prescribe the form for the proof of claim of all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations shareholders and for the affidavit to be included therein Whenever requested by any such depositor or shareholder to prepare such proof of claim or to take the affidavit thereto the Secretary shall do so without any charge to such depositor or shareholder

Section 1003 Proof of Claims of Creditors A Creditors other than depositors or in the case of a building and loan association other than shareholders shall not share in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the creditor or someone for it shall within the time specified present to him a statement of its claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto any note or other instrument received as evidence thereof and a list of any collateral or agreement of pledge received in connection therewith

However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any creditor to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

The statement of a creditor's claim required by this section shall be verified by affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of institution) that there are no credits or allowances against this claim except as therein set forth that there is no collateral security for this indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or by anyone else other than as above set forth and that I am not the owner or the obligee directly or indirectly of any contract of indemnity or insurance covering this claim except as set forth above"

If the creditor shall be a corporation such affidavit shall be made by the treasurer or assistant treasurer thereof and if a partnership by any member thereof In either such case the form of the affidavit shall be modified accordingly

B The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of parties interested in the custody possession or control of funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity However except as otherwise provided in this act the provisions of this section shall apply to disputes concerning the identity of such funds property or investments or to claims based upon deficiencies therein or the liability of the institution to surcharge thereon

Section 1004 Allowance of Claims For the purposes of the accounting provided for in this act the Secretary shall allow the claims of depositors or in the case of a building and loan association shareholders for the amounts shown to be due to them upon the books or other records of the institution or for such other amounts as they shall within the time and in the manner provided by this act prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary are due to them He shall likewise allow the claims of all other creditors when presented within the time and in the manner provided by this act if he shall be satisfied that the amounts claimed are rightfully due He shall reject all other claims of depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders

Section 1005 Advance Payments of Dividends to Depositors After the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he may petition the court for an order permitting him without filing an account to make an advance payment of a dividend to all depositors the amounts of whose claims as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution are undisputed The dividend shall be calculated as if the claims of all other depositors as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and the claims of all creditors who assert priority over or parity with depositors in the order of distribution of the assets are valid and uncontested

The petition to the court for an order permitting the Secretary to declare such advance payment shall state in detail the cash available for distribtution the names and addresses of and the amounts due to the depositors to whom the advance payment of a dividend is to be made the amounts claimed by other depositors to be due to them and the amounts due to or claimed by other creditors by law given priority over or parity with depositors in the order of distribution of the assets of the institution

The court if it finds that the provisions of this section have been complied with shall issue the order petitioned for upon such terms and conditions as it shall deem expedient However the court shall not authorize an advance payment of a dividend to any depositors until the Secretary shall have set aside an amount sufficient to pay in full the claims of all creditors asserting or entitled to priority over depositors in the order of distribution and to pay the proportionate dividend on the amounts claimed by the other depositors and by any creditors who are entitled to or who claim parity with depositors in the order of distribution provided for by law

Section 1006 Expenses of Administration Any reasonable expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver of an institution including any expense incurred in the management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution of the assets and affairs of the institution and any compensation paid to the deputy receiver or any other employe retained to assist the Secretary in such management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution and to any deputy attorney general special deputy attorney general assistant deputy attorney general or other attorney who has been assigned by the Department of Justice to the Secretary to handle for him any legal business pertaining to the affairs or property of such institution shall be paid out of the assets of the institution provided it is included in any partial or final account filed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act and is approved by the court in which such account is filed

Where such expenses are incurred or such compensation is paid for the benefit of the estate of more than one institution in the possession of the Secretary as receiver an equitable portion of such expenses or compensation shall be paid out of the assets of each institution on whose behalf such expenditures were made

Section 1007 Partial or Final Account Objections A At any time after the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he shall file a partial or final account of his administration of the business and property of the institution duly verified by him under oath or affirmation

If the Secretary shall not file his first account within one year after he takes possession of an institution any depositor other creditor or shareholder of such institution may petition the court to order the Secretary to file an account The court may in its discretion grant or refuse the petition

The account shall present in detail his administration of the estate including a statement of all receipts or expenditures by the Secretary as receiver a list of all claims which have been allowed and a separate list of claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all depositors other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders their names and addresses the amounts due or claimed to be due to them and any priorities in the order of distribution granted to or claimed by them

B The Secretary shall forthwith give written or printed notice of such filing of an account to all corporations or persons whom he knows to be or to claim to be depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders of the institution at the addresses which respectively appear for them upon the books of the institution or if none appear there at their last known respective addresses Such notice shall also state that unless an exception to the account or to any item therein is filed with the court within thirty days from the date of the filing thereof it will be confirmed absolutely

Section 25 (a) 1 In all cases in which by the provisions of any last will and testament or by the provisions of this act or by proceedings in the orphans court in any county any legacy or any money payable at a future period or any money the interest in which is payable to any person is or shall be hereafter charged upon or payable out of real estate it shall be lawful for the legatee or the person entitled to such money or interest to apply by petition to the orphans court having jurisdiction of the accounts of the fiduciary On the presentation of such petition the court having caused due notice to be given to such fiduciary and the devisee or heir as the case may be and the present owner of the real estate charged with such legacy sum of money or interest and to such persons interested in the estate or property as justice may require may proceed according to equity to make a decree directing such devisee heir or owner to pay the amount of such legacy sum of money or interest then due within a time to be limited by such decree and providing that in case such devisee heir or owner shall fail to make payment within such time the fiduciary or a trustee to be appointed by said court in its discretion shall after giving public notice of such sale once a week for a period of three weeks before the day appointed therefor by advertisement in at least one newspaper published in the county if there be one or if there be none then in an adjoining county and by handbills posted at a conspicuous place on the real estate proposed to be sold and in at least three of the most public places in the vicinity of such estate make sale of said real estate or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of payment of such legacy sum of money or interest The proceeds of such sale shall be distributed under the direction of said court as in other cases of judicial sales to the persons legally entitled to receive the same In the case of money charged upon real estate the interest on which is payable to any person the court may instead of directing a sale of such real estate as aforesaid make such decree or order to enforce payment of said interest as shall be just and proper

2 The orphans' courts of the several counties of this Commonwealth in all cases where under the provisions of this section such courts have power to order the sale of real estate may authorize or direct a private sale if in the opinion of the court under all the circumstances a better price can be obtained at private than at public sale as where the interest shall be undivided or for any other sufficient cause

3 Before authorizing or directing any private sale of real estate public notice thereof shall be given by advertisement printed in at least one newspaper published in the county where such real estate is situated once a week for a period of three weeks prior to the date fixed by such order for authorizing or directing such sale and also written or printed notices one of which shall be posted at a conspicuous place on the real estate proposed to be sold and at least three of which shall be posted at three of the most public places in the vicinity of such real estate and before authorizing or directing such sale the court shall require proof by affidavit to be filed in the proceedings that notice as aforesaid has been given Such notice specify the location and description of the real estate proposed to be sold the name of the proposed purchaser and the price agreed to be paid

(b) If the real estate charged with such legacy sum of money or interest be situated in a county or counties other than that the orphans' court of which has jurisdiction of the accounts of the fiduciary and the devisee heir or owner against whom such decree has been made shall fail to comply therewith according to the terms thereof such decree may be certified to the orphans' court of any county in which such real estate is situated or in case such real estate is divided by a county line then to the orphan's court of the county where the mansion-house may be situated or if there be no mansion-house to the county where the principal improvements may be or if there be no improvements to either county Upon such certification and petition filed by the legatee or the person entitled to such money or to such interest it shall be the duty of the said orphans' court to make an order for the public or private sale of so much and such parts of such real estate as shall in their opinion be necessary to raise the specified sum and to direct the fiduciary or a trustee to be appointed by said court to make such sale after public notice as aforesaid given in each of the counties in which the real estate is situated Such fiduciary or trustee shall in all cases of public sale make return of his proceedings in relation to such sale to the orphans' court making such order of sale when if the same be approved by said court it shall be confirmed but the proceeds of all such sales shall be distributed under the direction of the court having jurisdiction of the accounts of the fiduciary or trustee as provided in clause (a) of this section In the case of money charged upon real estate the interest on which is payable to any person the orphans' court to which the decree is certified as aforesaid may instead of directing a sale of such real estate as aforesaid make such decree or order to enforce payment of said interest as shall be just and proper In the case of private sales authorized or directed under the provisions of this section no return or confirmation shall be necessary

(c) Before such legatee or other person shall be entitled to the benefit of any decree made under the provisions of this section for payment by the divisee heir or owner of the real estate of the amount of such legacy sum of money or interest he or she shall give such security as the court in which application was originally made shall direct for the indemnity of the devisee heir owner or other persons interested in the event of any debt due by the testator being recovered for the payment of which such real estate would be liable

(d) 1 Whenever under the provisions of any will a legacy is expressly or by legal implication or by the provisions of this or any other act charged as a lien upon real estate of such testator such lien shall cease and determine at the expiration of the period hereinafter limited unless proceedings to enforce such lien as hereinbefore provided in this section shall be brought by such legatee within such period and duly prosecuted to the entry of a decree as therein provided

2 Where the principal of such legacy is immediately payable to some person whether absolutely or in trust for some other person the said proceedings shall be brought within ten years after the date when said will shall have been probated

3 Where the legacy is one which under the will is not payable to any one either absolutely or in trust until some future period or event the said proceedings shall be brought within ten years after the expiration of such period of time or after the happening of such event

4 No such proceedings shall be necessary to preserve the lien of an annuity or annual sum given or directed to be paid to any person by the terms of any will without any principal sum being expressly bequeathed to any one to provide for payment of such annuity or annual sum But where a principal sum is bequeathed to any person in trust to pay to some other person out of the income or principal thereof such annuity or annual sum then the said proceedings shall be brought by such trustee within ten years after the probate of said will or after the said principal sum is due and payable to such trustee in like manner as is hereinbefore provided in subdivisions two and three of clause (d) of this section

5 An such proceeding shall be docketed and indexed in the orphans' court in the name of the testator and if any account has already been filed by the executors such proceedings shall be given the same term and number and be docketed with the audit and adjudication of said account

6 The foregoing provisions of clause (d) of this section shall be retroactive Provided however that in case of any legacy the lien of which would be sooner barred proceedings for the enforcement thereof may be commenced within five years after the passage of this act in manner as provided in clauses (a) (b) and (c) of this section
